Ousted Viet Leader To Be Roving Envoy

SAIGON (UPI) — The government today announced the appoitment of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh as South Viet Nam's "roving ambassador" — a job that would send the deposed military strongman into virtual exile.

The move was apparently designed to satisfy Khanh's demand for a graceful, face-saving exit from the Vietnamese political scene.

CONFIRMS REPORT

The appointment was made public in a government communique broadcast over Radio Saigon. The broadcast said the communique was signed Monday by Phan Khac Suu, chief of state.

(According to the Associated Press Khanh confirmed the appointment at a mountian retreat 200 miles north of Saigon. "I am sad to be leaving my troops in wartime, especially at this critical period," he said, adding that the war had to be fought "on the diplomatic" level, too.

(Khanh said his first mission would be to the United Nations to present evidence of Viet Cong infiltrations "we seized off the Communist ship on our coast last week," AP reported.

(As the new Saigon command continued its political maneuvering, an American enlisted man was killed last night when a Viet Cong threw a grenade into a command post 35 miles east of the capital, AP reported.)

BUDDHIST SUPPORT

A separate government broadcast today claimed the support of a militant Buddhist leader for Khanh's ouster.

The statement by the official Saigon news agency seemed to spike speculation that the appointment of a Catholic as Khanh's successor would touch off a new round of Buddhist-inspired violence.

Former Muslim Claims Clay In Danger From Both Camps

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Globe today quoted a former member of the Muslims as saying heavyweight champion Cassius Clay "is in danger both from inside and outside of the Muslims."

Aubrey Barnette of Boston, a bank employee who was beaten by a group of thugs when he quit the Muslim movement, discussed Clay's situation in the aftermath of the assassination of Malcolm X, former Muslim leader who was expelled from the organization.

After severing his own ties with the Muslims, Barnette wrote an article for the Saturday Evening Post entitled, "The Black Muslims are a Fraud."

"Clay is in danger both from inside and outside of the Muslims," Barnette said in the Globe story by sports writer Bud Collins. "I believe somebody important will have to pay when Malcolm X's followers or the others angered by his murder reciprocate against the Muslims.

"They will try to get back at the Muslims in some way to make a big impression, with someone the equal of Malcolm in national stature. Clay has that stature.

"But I think he is in danger from the Muslims, too, because he was a friend of Malcolm's. Malcolm brought him into the movement, and anyone who was ever friendly to Malcolm is in danger," Barnette said.

Malcolm Slaying 'Revenge'

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire gutted the Black Muslim mosque in Harlem early today, an apparent arson revenge for Malcolm X, the ousted and assassinated former minister of the temple.

Several witnesses heard explosions before flames shot into the sky. And on the roof of a building next door, investigators found an empty five-gallon tin which had contained kerosene or gasoline. (See also photo, stories, page 8.)

Police said it was possible to throw homemade firebombs or fuel from the roof through the barred fourth-floor windows of the mosque meeting hall, the heart of the spectacular blaze.

TERRORISM FEAR

A kerosene-soaked bag also was in the next door building.

Fear that the slaying would touch off terrorism grew stronger after another fire today, at the Black Muslim meeting place in San Francisco. Kerosene was thrown on the sidewalk and the front door was ignited. Two patroling policemen spotted the blaze early and damage was slight.

Police poured reinforcements into Harlem in an effort to block any further bloodshed or violence. They supplemented an extra force patroling the almost all-Negro community since the assassination Sunday.

CIVILIAN INJURED

The fire injured a civilian passer-by and five firemen, one seriously.

Both here and in Chicago, headquarters of Elijah Muhammad's Black Muslim faith, authorities had been on edge lest Malcolm's death touch off warfare within the black nationalism movement. He was shot down by assassins as he started to address his rebel followers at a meeting of his Afro-American Unity.

But Harlem appeared to accept the death quietly—until the hours before dawn today.

HEARS BLAST

"I heard the explosion," said one elderly Negro woman among the huge crowd at the scene. "I thought 'Oh, my God! This is it!' and I threw myself down on the floor."

The flames shot 30 feet above the four-story building at 102 W. 116th Street.

HOSPITAL ENTRY COMPLAINT DUE

Ascherman Case Figure Says Marin General Would Not Let Her Speak To Administrator

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Mrs. Joyce Conway, whose insistence that Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman deliver her baby sparked a still-unresolved dispute between the doctor and the Marin Hospital District, is to appear before the district board tonight with a new complaint.

In a letter to the board, to be read at the 7 p.m. meeting at the hospital, Mrs. Conway complained that she was not allowed to enter the hospital on Feb. 3 when she was ill, and that she had not been allowed to talk by phone with Hospital Administrator William W. Turner, although he was in the building.

Ascherman is embroiled in a court battle to gain staff privileges at Marin General Hospital.

Last March, Mrs. Conway asked to be admitted to the hospital to have a baby, and insisted that D. Ascherman be her obstetrician. After long arguments at staff and board level, Mrs. Conway's wish was granted to the extent of having Ascherman perform the delivery with a staff doctor also present.

Board president Mrs. Marion C. Ibach said Mrs. Conway was refused admission Feb. 3 on the grounds that the hospital never admits a patient at the patient's request, except in an emergency.

She was told a doctor must order admission. The doctor would have to be a staff member, thereby excluding Ascherman.

When Mrs. Conway asked to speak to Turner, he was in a meeting of volunteers where Mrs. Ibach was present, and secretaries were reluctant to break into the conference.

Finally, Mrs. Conway was admitted to a hospital in San Francisco where Ascherman has staff privileges.

In her letter to the board, Mrs. Conway said she should not have to pay taxes to a hospital district if she may not receive treatment there from her own doctor.

She said she would be present at the board meeting, due to start at 7 p.m. following dinner at 6 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria.

Board Agrees To Expand Parks Group

Marin County supervisors agreed today that the five-member county parks and recreation commission should be expanded to seven members.

The two new members would be members-at-large.

The expansion was part of a proposal by supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who also recommended the recreation division be given full department status, and its authority and responsibilities redefined.

Supervisors are scheduled to have a meeting with the parks and recreation commission March 8. Questions of department status and responsibilities may be discussed at that session.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker pointed out there is a technical problem in the makeup of the commission since there is no commissioner from the second district and two are from the newly expanded fourth district.

Farm Labor Requests Go To D.C.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today an official request had been sent to Secretary of Labor Williard W. Wirtz for the use of Mexican farm laborers in California fields.

Brown, at his weekly news conference, said he had both written and telephoned Wirtz to press for approval of braceros.

The secretary of labor, Brown said, gave no assurance that the California request would be granted.

Brown explained that despite a concerted effort to recruit American farm laborers, "all of the evidence indicates that in the very near future it will be necessary for the State Department of Employment to certify the need for a substantial number of foreign workers."

The governor also said an effort would be made to find farm work for some 1,000 Japanese laborers in California, now idled by the move to use only Americans in the crop harvests.

One Good Fight Left, Governor Declares

A reporter asked "what old man?"

"I don't know," laughed Brown, declining to say whether or not he will seek a third term.

Brown talked politics at his news conference in replying to a question about former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher's charge that the administration wasn't doing enough to take up the economic slack caused by defense industry layoffs.

"These people who have nothing else to do but run for governor don't have all the facts," said the Democratic governor.

He indicated that he thought speeches by Christopher contained criticism, but no new ideas.

"I read through these speeches looking for ideas," Brown said. "Whether they come from a milk man or a banker, I'll consider them."

Christopher is a dairy owner and a banker.

"An interesting combination" is what he called Sen. Barry Goldwater's offer to campaign for actor Ronald Reagan if the actor enters the gubernatorial race.

Brown noted that other Republicans — former Assemblyman Joseph Shell among them — were also showing interest in the governor's job. But he added that he liked the post.

Brown denied his aides were helping James Roosevelt in the Democratic congressman's race for mayor of Los Angeles.

"By all that's good and holy, they are not in the campaign and neither am I," he said.

District Attorney, Auditor Pay Increases Recommended

The executive salary committee of the Marin County Board of Supervisors today recommended that the board seek pay increases for the district attorney and auditor-controller.

The recommendation calls for raising the district attorney's salary from $16,650 to $24,000 during the four-year period through 1969.

The increase would be on a gradual basis, going to $22,000 for 1967 and 1968, and then to $24,000 in 1969.

The auditor-controller's salary, now $16,500 including $1,500 for functioning as controller, would be increased during the same period to $20,000. The auditor-controller would receive a boost to $18,000 for 1967 and 1968 and then $20,000 in 1969.

The committee's recommendation varies slightly from the recommendation of the county offices committee of the 1964 Marin County Grand Jury, which set the district attorney at $25,000 and the auditor-controller at $19,000 in 1970.

Supervisors agreed to consider the recommendations next Tuesday, before submitting any proposal to the legislature.

Justice Frankfurter Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter is dead of a heart attack at 82 and President Johnson in grief has praised him as "one of the great figures in legal history."

Chief Justice Earl Warren in a statement of mourning called Frankfurter "a great man of the law" and said "our nation is much richer because of his long and productive life."

Frankfurter, who stepped down because of poor health 2½ years ago after serving on the high court for 23 years, suffered a heart attack at his home here Sunday. He was taken to George Washington University Hospital, where he died late yesterday.

His ailing wife, Marion, was confined to the family home and was informed of his death by family doctors. The Frankfurters had no children.

Frankfurter was born in Vienna, Austria, on Nov. 15, 1882, and was brought to the east side of New York City when he was 12. His father was a fur merchant. Young Frankfurter attended the College of the City of New York and continued his education at Harvard University Law School, where he received his law degree in 1906.

He returned to Harvard in 1914 as a law professor. Later, he recommended many of his former students as "brain trusters" for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

Frankfurter delighted in recalling that he was in his underwear, dressing for dinner, when Roosevelt telephoned him on Jan. 4, 1939, to tell him that the next day he would name him to the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

At that time Frankfurter was considered a liberal, but in later years he was considered a member of the conservative bloc of the bench. Frankfurter's own view was that conservatism and liberalism had nothing to do with judicial decisions.

Two years ago — on his 80th birthday — the Times of London paid editorial tribute to him. It said, "If any man has a right to be regarded as a citizen of the world it is he. Whether, when on the Supreme Court, he was a liberal or a conservative, or both, now matters little. He has always been a fighter for truth."

Frankfurter had no hesitancy about referring to his Jewish religion and once commented in an oinion:

"One who belongs to the most vilified and persecuted minority in history is not likely to be insensible to the freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution." He added: "But as judges we are neither Jew nor gentile, neither Catholic nor agnostic. As a member of this court I am not justified in writing my private notions of policy into the Constitution, no matter how deeply I may cherish them or how mischievous I may deem their disregard."

He was credited by some observers with having had a major influence in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision banning racial segregation in public schools. Some said the court's unanimous decision was a result of Frankfurter's arguments in favor of a formula permitting gradual desegregation rather than court orders demanding immediate enforcement.

Frankfurter was a peppery figure through his 23 years on the high court, sitting on the edge of his chair with his eyes sparkling behind his pince-nez as he rattled off questions to attorneys and fired verbal darts at his fellow justices.

In one of the last arguments he heard, a lawyer called an earlier Frankfurter opinion "brilliant." When the lawyer started to explain it, Frankfurter snapped, "You may assume I remember it."

His last major opinion was a monumental, 64-page dissent in which he objected to the court's 6-2 ruling that federal tribunals may decide on the constitutionality of distribution of seats in state legislatures.

In August 1962, four months after suffering a stroke that impaired his speech, Frankfurter wrote a letter to President John F. Kennedy. With sadness, he told the president he could no longer carry his share of the Supreme Court's burdens.

Kennedy voiced for himself and all Americans "our respectful gratitude for the character, courage, learning and judicial dedication with which you have served your country over the last 23 years" and named Arthur J. Goldberg to take his place.

On this note of gratitude, Felix Frankfurter ended his career on the Supreme Court he loved so well.

Step Up U.S. Viet Efforts, Dodd Urges

Warns Against Any Negotiated Pact At Saigon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thomas J. Dodd called today for stepped-up U.S. efforts to save South Viet Nam.

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, he warned that a negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam would lead to a "gigantic bloodletting" that would "dwarf the agony and suffering" already under way there.

The Connecticut Democrat's office estimated it would take him two and one-half hours to read the speech.

Dodd's speech marked a new round in the continuing Senate debate over the U.S. course in South Viet Nam. A number of senators, including Frank Church, D-Idaho, and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., have urged the United States to look into the possibility of a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement to the Vietnamese war.

FIVE STEPS

Dodd gave five steps he thought would help win the war without a major escalation. They are:

1. Better liaison with leaders of various sectors of the South Vietnamese community;
2. An improvement in South Vietnamese political warfare and propaganda efforts;
3. Establishment of a "North Vietnamese liberation front" under which South Vietnamese could carry guerrilla warfare into the north;
4. Actions to hold key cities on the Viet Nam-Laos frontier through which Viet Cong guerrillas have filtered into South Viet Nam;
5. Collective action by members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

CAN'T THINK IT

"In my opinion," Dodd said, "the consequences of an American defeat in Viet Nam would be so catastrophic that we simply cannot permit ourselves to think of it."

He said abandonment of Southeast Asia to communism would bring the disintegration of alliances and "the total eclipse of America as a great nation."

McGovern, said Monday night on ABC's radio program "From the Capital" that he did not think that "the exploration of a peaceful settlement given the present circumstances in Viet Nam is running up the white flag. I think it's the poistion of reasonable men."

ANOTHER VIEW

The South Dakota senator said that he opposed "abrupt U.S. withdrawal" from South Viet Nam. "All I've ever suggested is that we explore through diplomatic channels the possibility of some kind of a settlement," he said.

Another view came from Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., who suggested Monday night on Westinghouse Broadcasting Co's "Washington Viewpoint" that the United States serve an ultimatum on North Viet Nam to stop infiltrating the south or face stepped-up bombings.

Holiday Traffic Jams Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Thousands of skiers and holiday travelers returning from the Sierra Nevada were trapped for hours last night as Sacramento experienced one of its worst traffic jams in years.

Hordes of westbound motorists were backed up bumper-to-bumper for miles along Interstate 80 and Highway 50 leading into the city. The real squeeze occurred when cars tried to driver over narrow tower bridge headed toward San Francisco.

Many travelers, once caught in the gigantic funnel of homeward bound motorists, moved less than a mile in more than two hours.

Officers said the traffic was the heaviest for a Washington's Birthday holiday in memory. One highway patrolman called the situation "impossible," and a city policeman said it was "just a mess."

Barry Boosts Actor Reagan For Governor

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Ronald Reagan, mentioned in Republican party circles as a possible opponent to Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the 1966 gubernatorial election, Monday night received a political boost by former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater.

Reagan introduced Goldwater at a George Washington Birthday dinner sponsored by the Americanism Education League at the International Hotel.

Goldwater stepped to the podium and told Reagan, "I look forward to the day when you ask me to come to California and help you campaign for your own office."

Turning to the audience, Goldwater said, "I've tried to beguile him to run for office before and now the time is getting ripe. You folks keep the pressure on him."

Goldwater then began his formal remarks and said the United States must win the war in South Viet Nam if it is to defend its own freedom at home.

"The communists want to destroy freedom," said Goldwater." . . . and when freedom loses anywhere on earth, freedom slips at home."

Goldwater urged that America make a total commitment to winning the war in the southeast Asian nation.

"We cannot beat the communists overnight," he said. "It's going to be a long, drawn out, dirty, tough war. But it's time the American people were told that it is a war and that it's going to take a long time to win it."

Then, to be sure the bird didn't catch cold, she put him under her hair drier.

"He hasn't been singing since then," Mrs. Farham said yesterday, "but he's eating well."

Two Executed In Damascus For Spying For The U.S.

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — A naturalized American citizen and a Syrian army officer were executed at dawn today as convicted spies for the United States.

Radio Damascus said Farhan Attassi, a Syrian-born American was hanged in the city's main square. The broadcast said Attassi's second cousin, Moeen Nakimi, was shot by a firing squad at a nearby army camp.He was a major in the Syrian army.

Attassi's body was left on the gallows for five hours before it was cut down and carted away for burial. Crowds milled through the square, staring at the body. Attassi wore the traditional long white gown of the condemed and a large white paper listing the charges against him was hung around his neck.

The two men were sentenced to death last Saturday after trial by a special five-man military court.

Today's broadcast included recorded testimony by Attassi in which he said he tried to obtain Syrian military information at the request of an American diplomat-identified as Walter S. Snowdon.

Snowdon, second secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Damascus, was expelled by the Syrian goverment on spy charges. The United States denied the charges.

An embassy spokesman said Monday it has agreed to a Syrian government demand for the expulsion of Martha Scherrer, an embassy secretary who was alleged to have been involved in the spy ring.

Attassi, 37, was a businessman in Damascus, representing United Artists. He lived in the Syrian capitol with his wife and two children.

DENVER (UPI)—The world's only living liver transplant recipient was reported "progressing satisfatorily" yesterday at Veterans Administration Hospital.

A team of doctors performed the operation. It was the sixth attempt at a liver transplant. The longest any person has survived such an operation was 23 days.

Officials said Griffith was admitted to the hospital Jan. 26. They said examinations showed he had an incurable liver ailment.

Money Pressure 'Cheating Cause'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Undue emphasis on grades—and financial rewards resulting from a college degree—trigger cheating such as caused scandal at the Air Force Academy recently, USC education expert Dr. David W. Martin says.

Martin, chairman of the school's Social and Philosophical Foundation of Education, told newsmen yesterday:

"We have not done a good job of selling youngsters on intellectuality. We tell them how much more money they can make with a college degree. We don't tell them the real purpose of education."

INVISIBLE EMPIRE MEMBERS

'First Outsiders' View Rites As Klan Initiates 11 Aliens

By BILL SHIPP
Atlanta Constitution

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Eleven "alien" men, some wearing purple Halloween masks, were "naturalized" as citizens of the Invisible Empire at a secret Ku Klux Klan ceremony near Lithonia, Ga., about 20 miles from Atlanta.

The "aliens" were 11 men adjudged by the Klan to be "qualified white Caucasian Americans." The Invisible Empire is the "government-within the-government" operated by the Klan.

A Constitution reporter and a photographer were picked up in downtown Atlanta, blindfolded and taken to the initiation ritual by two Georgia Klansmen. They were told they were the first outsiders to view the rites.

One was Calvin F. Craig, of Atlanta, grand dragon of the United Klans of America, Inc. The other Klansman identified himself only by a code name — "Blue Nose Leader."

Craig said the newsmen were permitted to observe the ceremony so that they could see that the Klan "is not un-American."

Rep. Charles Weltner of Atlanta, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has proposed that the committee investigate the Klan.

The rite was directed by the Klavern's cigar-chewing, red-robed exalted cyclops who told newsmen to address him as Mr. X.

About 40 robed and masked KKK members sat in straight-backed chairs around the edge of the meeting hall.

One of the masked men was an FBI informer, the grand dragon confided. He said he knew which one.

During most of the ceremony, the room was dimly lit with red light bulbs glowing from a wooden cross before an altar in the middle of the room. The altar held a U.S. flag, a glass of water, a Bible opened to the 12th chapter of Romans and a rusty iron sword.

The biblical passage was St. Paul's admonition to live righteously.

All objects on the altar were pointed out during the ceremony as representing Klan "virtues" — the Bible for religious zeal, the water for purity, the flag for patriotism and the sword for courage and willingness to fight.

The red-robed kladd of the Klan — the bouncer — shouted sharp military orders to the initiates as he marche them single file, then double file around the room about six times.

Periodically during the march, the Klansmen whistled at them, apparently as some kind of secret sign.

The initiates were halted in front of four Klan officers — the exalted cyclops — klavern or chapter president; the kludd — chaplain; the kolkard — lecturer; and the klaliff — vice president. The initiates were given instruction in "klankraft."

The initiates were ordered to defend the United States with their lives, "to protect the chastity of our white womanhood" and "faithfully strive to maintain white supremacy."

They were asked: "Are each of you native-born, white gentile citizens?"

They were told they would be given a test in the coming weeks.

Mr. X gave each initiate a chance to back out. They all said they would stay.

Some of the new Klansmen may be given "a special degree" known as the Royal Order of the Yellow Dog.

Both Mr. X and the grand dragon declined to discuss it except to say, "It's a side degree."

"That's the one where we're liable to lose somebody," the grand dragon added.

Asked to stand and give his impression of the initiation ceremony, one of the new Kluxers said: "I don't talk very good. I thought you'd whip a couple of niggers."

Mr. X told the gathering: "The Klan has been pushed around for 35 years. But the Klan is not going to be pushed around any more."

This drew a loud chorus of "amens."

Selma Negroes Plan To Defy March Order

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders got ready for a twilight march on the Dallas County Courthouse in their right-to-vote campaign today and kept alive the threat of nighttime demonstrations.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who is spearheading the voter registration struggle now in its sixth week, remained in Selma to organize the demonstration.

During the day, Negro volunteers devoted their efforts primarily to organizational work at the ward and precinct level. Following the pattern of many political campaigns, they are recruiting prospective new voters house by house and block by block.

Amelia Boynton, a Negro businesswoman of Selma and secretary of the Dallas County Voters League, said King and his followers planned to meet at 4 p.m. at the church where other marches in the prolonged right-to-vote campaign have originated.

Negro comedian Dick Gregory returned to Selma to face trial today in City Court on disorderly conduct charges, but the trial was postponed for one week.

A large force of state troopers was on hand to enforce Gov. George C. Wallace's ban on night demonstrations, which King said the Negroes would defy.

King also announced plans for a huge march on the Capitol in Montgomery.

Speaking to a church rally last night, King said that the governor's orders would not be obeyed.

"We have a right to march at night," he said. "But in our own good time we will make clear we cannot abide by the order."

State troopers, county deputies and city policemen, together with federal agents, waited in cars in front of the red brick church in a Negro housing project.

Drilling Rig Moves South In Oil Hunt

The Blue Water II, that big drilling rig operating off Marin's Coast, has moved about as far south in its search for oil as Shell Oil Co. plans to take it.

The paripatetic rig has moved many times since it began its explorations in July. Most recent move to a point south of Drakes Bay was 10 days ago, a Shell spokesman said today.

The crew of 40 men, rotated between the job and the mainland in shifts, is flown to and from the steel island by helicopter. With the recent move to the south, the crew has been landed at Stinson Beach. Prior to that, the helicopter put down at Bodega.

Shell is guarding information from its explorations like a military secret. However, the company has announced that the Blue Water II will shift to drilling off the Oregon coast next summer.

The rig is operated for Shell by the Blue Water Drilling Corp.

Bill Would Lighten Restrictions In Deeds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Citing passage of Prop. 14 as a sign of the will of the people, a lawmaker introduced a bill today eliminating the last vestige of restrictions aimed at denying minority groups the right to certain property.

The measure by Assemblyman James R. Mills, D-San Diego, provides that a homeowner may invalidate any language on deeds to his home restricting its use simply by declaring to the county recorder that the restrictions are invalid. The recorder then would have to delete the restrictions from records.

"The voters in California have spoken on this issue and the courts have already declared that racially restrictive covenants are unenforceable," Mills commented.

He added:

"Nevertheless the deeds on many California homes still carry invalid language restricting the owner's rights to rent and sell and in some instances even go so far as to tell him whom he must invite into his home as a guest . . . These restrictions will remain on the deeds, even of those owners who wish them off, from now on, unless such legislation is passed."

Two Enlist In Army

Two Marin County men have enlisted in the Army at the Oakland recruiting station. They are Pvt. John C. Aylwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Aylwin of 69 Wellington Avenue, Ross, and Pvt. John T. Young Jr., son of S/Sgt. and Mrs. John T. Young of 635 Morgan Drive, Novato.

Lawmakers Turn To State Budget

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly turned its attention today to an item-by-item examination of Gov. Brown's proposed budget while down the Hall the Senate remained mired in the reapportionment swamp.

As the 1965 session entered its eighth week, there still was no indication that the senators could produce a solution to the overriding issue of how to redraw the 40 districts along population lines by the July 1 court-set deadline.

In addition to that problem, the Senate also now must turn to a scrutiny of Brown's record $4.03 billion spending proposal, which is in for a tough voyage through the legislative sea.

The lower house Ways and Means subcommittees began hearings today on the budget, but it will be June before the outlay hits the floor. With adjournment deadline approaching, the annual battle for the two-thirds vote needed to send the budget to the Senate will begin.

Under rejuvenated leadership, the minority GOP forces promise to stand fast until what they see as "fat" is trimmed from the administration's "bare-bones" budget. The Assembly lineup is 49-31 Democratic, so the governor must corral at least five GOP votes for the 54-vote two-thirds margin.

Meanwhile, in the newly decorated, gas-lit Senate chamber, 39 men tried to figure out a reapportionment plan that will do the least damage to their membership. Progress, everyone admits, is at about the rate of a crippled snail.

Confusion over federal court reapportionment decisions and the difficulty of getting 21 votes to pass any redistricting plan are the main stumbling blocks.

Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said last week that he doubts a plan will be adopted by July 1. He spoke of various ways the rural-dominated body might avoid becoming urban-controlled, but nobody is very optimistic about the possibilities.

Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, the man in charge of reapportionment, also agrees the deadline may come and go without a plan — leaving it to the court in Los Angeles to handle the job.

Filling out the nominees for best actress were Debbie Reynolds, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," Kim Stanley, "Seance On A Wet Afternoon," Sophia Loren, "Marriage Italian "The Pumpkin Eater."

Best actor nominations went to five Englishmen and Anthony Quinn, "Zorba the Greek".

Chile Program Head Is Named

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Henry W. Laurant, former senior economist for the Stanford Research Institute, today was named head of the California Chile program.

He replaces Preston Silbaugh as top man in the plan that puts California's technical knowledge to work in the South American nation that shares many problems with this state. Laurant has been Silbaugh's chief deputy.

Silbaugh quit to become chairman of the board and president of the Beverly Hills Federal Savings and Loan Association. He was formerly state savings and loan commissioner.

Beatlemaniacs Give Chase To Their Heroes

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — Hot - rodding Beatlemaniacs turned the airport road into a drag strip last night in a wild chase after their idols, who arrived here to make a film.

Several hundred teen-agers were waiting at the airport when the mop-headed singers landed. The four stepped directly from the plane into a limousine waiting on the runway and sped away to the Emerald Beach Hotel.

Three Walk Away

Three youths who walked away from St. Vincent's School for Boys Sunday returned unharmed yesterday. School officials said the three, Martin L. Eddington, 15, Michael Seprou, 14, and Milo Gordon Taylor, 14, had remained in the school's vicinity.

man, on guard duty outside, described it this way:

"There was a muffled explosion from the top floor and every window on the fourth floor seemed to come down. About 10 minutes later, the whole floor was engulfed in flames."

The fire destroyed the fourth-floor meeting hall of the Temple of Islam No. 7, the power base for Malcolm X when he was heir apparent to Elijah Muhammad, the leader. The lower floors house rooms for dances, parties, and smaller meetings; the Muslim-owned Shabazz restaurant; and shop spaces leased from the Muslims.

Under the direction of Fire Chief John T. O'Hagan, the fire fighters kept the flames at the top of the building.

Fifteen-degree temperatures created sheets of ice from the firemen's hoses.

The roof collapsed and a fourth-floor wall crumbled, showering bricks on the firemen and injuring five of them.

With the building still smouldering six hours later, the police bomb squad took over the investigation.

O'Hagan was asked if the fire was connected with the assassination of Malcolm X.

"I wouldn't be surprised," he replied. "It seems logical. I just put the fires out. We have our top investigators working on it. It's certainly suspicious."

Black Muslims by the score had gathered for a meeting earlier at the Muhammad Temple of Islam, Mosque No. 7.

"Man, the place was packed," said a nearby resident.

Nobody was reported in the building when the fire erupted, but several persons in a downstairs bar were evacuated.

The fire was under control about two hours after it was reported.

Police pressed their search for several men in the slaying of Malcolm X, who broke with the Black Muslims more than a year ago.

One Negro, Talmadge Hayer, 22, was being held on a charge of homicide under heavy police guard in Bellevue Hospital's prison ward.

He was wounded, police said, in an exchange of gunfire over the heads of several hundred horrified persons who gathered in Harlem's Audubon Ballroom Sunday afternoon to hear Malcolm speak.

Despite additional clues found yesterday, the two to four other men believed involved in the assassination remained at large.

Police said they had turned up no additional information from persons who had seen the tall 39-year-old Malcolm X shot on the ballroom stage.

SALARIES

as T. Storer, also recommended that the salaries of elective offices should not be increased during the term of office "by virtue of assumption of additional responsibilities or collateral positions."

The compensation for an elective officer relates to any and all duties and responsibilities of the office, including appointed, delegated and/or assumed collateral positions, the committee said.

The comments came after the committee considered the request of County Clerk George H. Gnoss for additional pay for his services as jury commissioner for municipal court.

Gnoss, who receives $1,500 a year as jury commissioner for superior court, requested the board last December to consider paying him an additional $300 for the municipal court services.

The committee also recommended that the board recommend to the legislature a constitutional amendment that would permit adjustment of elective salaries at mid-term.

Storer, a former deputy district attorney, said he felt the current salary for the district attorney is inadequate in view of the duties and responsibilities.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said the board should not act on the recommendations the same day it receives them so action was postponed until next Tuesday. Behr said the public should be given a chance to become aware of the recommendations before the board acts.

Supervisor Leydecker noted that a story in the Independent-Journal Feb. 9, which indicated that the board had made recommendations to the legislature, was in error.

Armenian Treasures Are Safe In Venice

By NANCY DUGHI

VENICE (WPS) — "Russians must come to us when they want to do research in Armenian." Father Nerses, whose white beard reaches the third button on his cassock, sounds more like a nationalist than a religious man when he talks of the mission of his Order, the Melchitar Fathers of Venice, known as "the Armenian Monks."

He and 30 fellow monks live in a unique island monastery in the Venetian lagoon where the literary treasures of Armenia are preserved. Father Nerses is not betraying his vows when he speaks so proudly of the work the monks are doing, for all of them are as committed to their nation as to their God. They are custodians of a library and printing press which are the source and storehouse of Armenian publications, ancient as well as new.

The aim of the monks is to preserve and foster Armenian culture for the thousands of Armenian exiles who have fled persecution behind the Iron Curtain. They succeed so well that even the Russians do indeed refer to this monastery in Venice for material on the history, art, music and literature of Armenia, now a republic of the Soviet Union.

For centuries Armenians have been fleeing from their country in the Caucasus as waves of massacring Huns, Persians and Turks have overrun their homeland.

Wherever they go, they form colonies to keep the love of Armenia alive. Venice once gave shelter to some 2,000 Armenian families, most of them successful traders with the Levant. These people founded a powerful church and school, but as Venice waned the Armenian community shrank. Today there are only five families left to support the old Armenian church near the center of town.

Nonetheless, students from all over Europe and the Middle East continue to come here to study under the monks who staff the Armenian College for Boys near the church, and the monastery on the island.

Few of the present generation of students and monks have ever seen their fatherland.

Typical of them is young Father Vertanea (born Joseph Oulouhoguan). Now 28, he was born in Lyon, France. His father, who runs a chocolate factory there, had been sent as a child to the monastery to study. There he had learned the history, literature and religion of Armenia, in the Armenian language, as well as the usual studies which were taught in Italian and French.

Oulouhoguan wanted the same kind of education for his own son, so he sent Joseph to the monks when the boy was 10 years old. After he graduated, Joseph went to Rome to study for the priesthood. And, after being ordained, he returned to teach in the monastery. His father writes him regularly — the letters written in Armenian script. He also sends boxes of chocolates regularly.

Basement Sleeper Is Arrested

A 32-year-old man, allegedly routed from his sleeping place in the basement of a Mill Valley neighbor's home, was booked in county jail early today for lodging without permission.

Deputies said Joseph James Gallagher, 68 Locust Avenue, was discovered by a daughter of Mrs. Barbara Aleshire, 546 Miller Avenue, about 6:55 a.m. and fled south on Miller Avenue.

Mill Valley police and sheriff's officers located Gallagher and arrested him.

English Equal Status Is Planned In India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India's ruling Congress party moved today to give English equal status with Hindi as official languages of this multi-tongued country.

The move was prompted by three weeks of bloody rioting in southern India in which at least 55 persons lost their lives protesting the "imposition" last month of Hindi as the only official language.

Ross School District trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in Ross School. The meeting was not held yesterday because of George Washington's Birthday.

Space For Office On City Agenda

Tiburon city councilmen tonight will consider appointing a committee to look into two offers of city office space.

The council, meeting at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, will consider an offer of Tiburon Tidelands Co. that the city share space with the company in a stucco building off Paradise drive which formerly was owned by Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Also under consideration is moving the city office to different rooms in the same building at 1610 Tiburon Boulevard where it now is located.

The city rents one medium-sized room in the building from Charles Tijerina, president of the Tiburon National Bank, for $100 monthly.

Brandow Meeting Time Is Changed

A special meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council to discuss replacement of town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow Jr. has been moved back one day to 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the town hall annex.

Brandow has announced he will leave Corte Madera April 1 to become city administrator of Belmont. Since he holds the position of town engineer also, the council will be faced with the job of filling both posts.

Gate 5 Resident Under Observation

Richard P. Westwell, 28, of Gate 5, Marinship, was treated for six cuts in the right forearm at Marin General Hospital last Saturday, then transferred to Napa State Hospital for observation, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the wounds were apparently self-inflicted at home by Westwall after he became despondent over being unable to find a job.

Maryland's John Hanson, who served as national president under the Articles of Confederation, designated the last Thursday of 1781 as Thanksgiving. He said the future nation should not only offer up supplication for help in distress but give praise "for His goodness in general."

ONE DEPARTMENT; TWO CHIEFS

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown of Sausalito pins fire chief's badge on Charles E. Masten as veteran Fire Chief Matthew J. Perry, still wearing his badge, looks on with pleasure. Actually, the Sausalito Fire Department will have two chiefs this week as Perry's retirement does not take effect until the week end. "Matts" plans an onlooker's role for the next few days, however. OBITUARIES

J. A. Kauscha Air Pioneer, Dies At 76

Requiem Mass for John A. Kauscha, 76, one of the West's pioneer airmen, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anthony's Church, 3215 Army Street, San Francisco.

Kauscha died Sunday at his home at 15 Wiltshire Avenue, Larkspur, after a long illness.

Kauscha had lived quietly in Larkspur for the past 12 years but could recall his personal involvement in some of the exciting moments of western aviation history.

He was co-pilot and right-hand man to Walter T. Varney, who flew the first air mail flights over the rugged country from Elko, Nev., to Pasco, Wash., in 1925.

Kauscha had photographs of himself and Varney after they landed in a field near Lake Tahoe, in the first aircraft to land in the area.

Varney Airlines eventually merged with three others to become United Air Lines.

Kauscha and his wife were active at the Marin Art and Garden Center. His hobbies were woodcarving and metalwork.

He is survived by his wife, Anna; a son, John A. Kauscha Jr, of San Carlos, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Westell of Sierra City, Sierra County.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

A. PEDRAZZOLI

Funeral for Almadoro Pedrazzoli, 89, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Pedrazzoli died in a local hospital early yesterday. He resided at 344 D Street, San Rafael.

Pedrazzoli's name was incorrectly spelled Pedrozzi in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

He was a retired gardener who came from Italy to Marin County 61 years ago.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

WM. BONDIETTI

William Bondietti, 65, a former longtime resident of West Marin, died Sunday after an automobile accident in Minden, Nev., the Independent-Journal learned today.

A friend of the Bondietti family, Robert Krause of Petaluma, said Bondietti's car struck a parked car in Minden and Bondietti collapsed after getting out to inspect the damage. He died on the way to a hospital.

Bondietti was born in Marin County and for many years ran a dairy ranch near Point Reyes Station. He moved to Al Tahoe, El Dorado County, in 1956.

He is survived by two sons, Frank, of Bijou, El Dorado County, and William, of Seattle, Wash.; a brother, Daniel Bondietti Jr. of Napa; three sisters, Mrs. Ed Mazzolini and Mrs. Arthur Alberelli of Novato and Mrs. Maria Marshall of Petaluma, and four grandchildren.

Private funeral will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Theresa's Catholic Church, Al Tahoe.

Berenz worked in the San Francisco Consulate about three years, having served prior to that with the consulate in Chicago and with the German embassy in London.

He lived in Sausalito for about 18 months and, since May 1964, in Mill Valley at 51 Circle Avenue.

Berenz was born in Danzig. He was a member of the Free Masons in San Francisco.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

C.W. SELLICK

Funeral for Charles W. Sellick, killed in Sausalito Yacht Harbor Saturday by an explosion aboard his boat, will be held in South San Francisco High School and auditorium at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Sellick was assistant principal of South San Francisco High School. The funeral will be under direction of Francis Drake Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

Burial will be in Chico, Butte County.

ANNA JOHNSON

Anna F. Johnston of 240 Redwood Drive, Woodacre, a two-year resident of Marin County, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 77.

Mrs. Johnston, a widow, was a native of Iowa. She was a self-employed seamstress for more than 40 years.

She leaves a son, Thomas H. Sawyer, with whom she lived in Woodacre; a sister, Mrs. Georgia Huffmeyer of Fort Worth, Tex., and two grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial arrangements had not been completed today.

Sand Storms Stymie South State Traffic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Winds which wined out of mountain passes yesterday, whipping up storms of sand and dust that stymied traffic, subsided sufficiently this morning to let motorists pass over all Southern California roads, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Before the blasts diminished they were clocked at 50 miles an hour in spots.

Although a number of roads were closed yesterday, all were open by dawn today, the CHP reported.

For hours yesterday, hundreds of motorists were prevented from returning home after holidays at a date festival in Indio and boating excursions on the inland Salton Sea.

Small craft warnings were hoisted as far south as Oceanside.

The CHP said winds were responsible for overturning several trailers in the Indio area.

Interstate Route 10—Highways 60-70-99—was closed for a 100-mile stretch from Blythe to Indio at 7:56 p.m. One hour later the CHP shut down a portion of Highway 91 near the Nevada border.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted continuing gusty winds with slightly warmer temperatures.

Labor Seeks Broader Power To Picket Building Sites

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The AFL-CIO is about to ask Congress for a second major change in Taft-Hartley law provisions that have irritated unions for many years.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, says he is confident that Congress will act this year to repeal the federal authorization for state "right to work" laws.

President Johnson has endorsed this change. Now, the union leaders seem determined to push for another revision.

Leaders of building trades and industrial unions appeared close to agreement on legislation to broaden the power to picket construction sites.

The measure would revise Taft-Hartley secondary boycott provisions to ease the present restrictions on picketing where workers in many unions are employed at the same job site.

The newfound unity, achieved quietly behind the scenes at labor meetings here, raised chances of getting the picketing bill through Congress.

The administration has refused to endorse the legislation first advanced a decade ago by the building trades, because of squabbles over its provisions inside the big labor federation.

LBJ Attends Father's Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson sat unobtrusively through father's day services yesterday at the National Cathedral, where his 17-year-old daughter Luci is a student at a girl's school.

Johnson was met outside the cathedral by his daughter, who ushered him to a front row seat in the huge cathedral. Many persons did not realize the President was present.

The Chief Executive listened to an address by Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., honoring the work of the school and referring to the first president of the United States on George Washington's birthday.

Big Glider Rocketed Into Space

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The Air Force rocketed a polka-dot speckled space glider into the sky today for a scorching 13,300 mile an hour flight to an ocean recovery force 2,700 miles away.

The mission, last of six in an Air Force research program called Asset, was designed to help lay the groundwork for future mannned space ships that will be able to glide back from space and land at jetports.

The Delta-winged spacecraft began its 30 minute flight atop a Thor-Delta rocket that blasted into a rainy sky at 9:36 a.m. EST.

The rocket's first stage was expected to boost the experimental craft about 39 miles high in nearly three minutes then the second stage was programed to nose the glider over and give it a push back into earth's atmosphere.

Two recovery ships were standing by in the choppy Atlantic ready to retrieve the craft after a parachute softened its landing.

'Deputy' To Open North Of Rome

ROME (UPI) — Producers of "The Deputy," a play critical of Pope Pius XII, plan to open performances tomorrow in the remote mountain town of Teramo, 80 miles northeast of Rome.

The play is banned in Rome. Clandestine performances here last week sparked a storm of protests and the ban against the drama was believed to have caused a terrorist bombing at the Vatican.

The play criticizes Pope Pius for not speaking out against Nazi massacres of Jews during World War II. The government barred Rome productions under terms of a concordat with the Vatican to safeguard the "sacred character" of the city.

Tahoe Basin Compromise Is Reached

CARSON CITY (AP)—California and Nevada legislators have agreed to spend $20,000 between the two states on a study of Lake Tahoe basin's tangled governmental situation.

Officials of the two states met at the lake yesterday and resolved differences in studies proposed in each legislature. They agreed on a nine-man Lake Tahoe study committee, The compromise must be passed by both legislatures.

The California delegation agreed to drop its references to a proposed Lake Tahoe regional authority.

"This is a red flag to the people in the area," said Nevada Assemblyman Ray Knisley, D-Pershing.

The group defined the study area by setting 22 limits, including a possible bi-state compact covering the lake, which straddles the border.

California Assemblyman Gene Chappie insisted on the limitations.

"We have to spell it out or they'll be studying the Sea of Tranquility or something," he said.

California legislators had proposed a $100,000 study with a Lake Tahoe basin authority as a possible goal. Nevada's bill called for a less ambitious study of the need for, some area-wide agency to preserve the natural environment of the Sierra lake.

Governors of each state would appoint one member to the study group. The six counties involved, including California's Nevada county, would each name a member. Then, the eight appointees would select the ninth.

The compromise bills call for a two-year study, since the Nevada legislature meets biennially.

Chambers Map Way To Raise Retail Sales

A three-pronged program to bring more retail sales to Marin County stores will be proposed at a meeting of representatives of all the chambers of commerce in the county at the Redwood Club in San Rafael tomorrow noon.

The proposal will come from the Corte Madera Chamber, whose president, Richard G. Burns, is pushing for organization of a merchants' cooperative group for county-wide sales promotion campaigns to keep shoppers in Marin.

"We are no longer a bedroom community, a commuter retreat, a nearby haven of scenic beauty," Burns said. "We are a full-fledged business community. And this fact needs to be dramatized regularly, repeatedly and successfully."

First point of the program would be to organize regular "Marin Days" sales, to be held simultaneously in all shopping districts in the county.

The second would be a publicity program to try to show county residents how important retail sales are to their community. Chambers of commerce and local governments would show the effect of local business on sales tax revenue, property and inventory taxes, business licenses, employment and payroll.

Finally, local chambers would coordinate efforts to bring local businessmen into the county-wide program.

Mother, 4 Children Escape $6,000 Santa Venetia Blaze

Fire burned through the garage roof and into the attic of the Earl W. Woodall home at 37 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, yesterday, causing damage estimated at $6,000.

Mrs. Woodall and the four Woodall children, ages two to six, all got out of the house safely, but it might have been a different story had the fire struck late at night, said Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom.

Highly combustible materials piled near a water heater in the garage caught fire and sent flames shooting to the roof of the garage, said Chief Bloom. The materials were cardboard boxes, paper, and cans of resin, paint and shellac.

The flames spread to the attic over the kitchen and living room.

A 9-year-old neighbor boy, William Eudy at 10 Mabry Way, saw the flames shooting through the roof and told his sister, Mrs. Nancy Titus, who called the fire department.

At about the same time, Mrs. Rosemary Woodall heard the fire from her kitchen and opened the door to see flames engulfing the garage. She led her children, David, 6, Deborah, 5, Jerry, 4, and Steven, 2, out of the house.

Woodall had left for San Rafael for shopping a few minutes earlier.

Nancy Titus, husband, Philip, and other neighbors pulled a boat Woodall had been working on out of the garage and moved furniture from the house.

Firemen arrived at about 5:50 p.m. and had the flames controlled in about 15 minutes, said Chief Bloom.

The house is owned by Annie Reagan Realty Co. of Santa Venetia, Chief Bloom said.

Malcolm X Followers Accused

OAKLAND (AP) — The Bay Area leader of Elijah Muhammad's Black Muslims has suggested that Malcolm X, the ex-Muslim leader slain Sunday in New York City, may have been killed by ". . . some of his own disenchanted followers."

Bernard X, recently named Cushmeer by Elijah Muhammad, said yesterday that Muhammad could not "justifiably" be blamed for the slaying.

"Not just last year," he said, "but a long time ago—even back in the '50s — Malcolm predicted he would meet with violence."

Bernard X said Malcolm X had told people he expected to meet a violent end.

"The Bible says, 'He that lives by the sword shall perish by the sword.' So the law he preached caught up with him.

"In no way can Messenger Muhammad be justifiably blamed for the death of Malcolm. It could have been done by some of his own disenchanted followers, some of whom went to prison for accepting his advice to arm themselves," Bernard X said.

"It's an outright lie for anyone to say that a person cannot quit Islam, as taught by Messenger Muhammad, because Islam means submission to the will of God. Messenger Muhammad has never begged anyone to follow him and does not compel anyone to follow him," Bernard X said.

Marine Is Treated For Auto Injures

Marine Pfc Eugene A. Alexander, 20, stationed at Treasure Island, suffered cuts on his arm, hands, knees and back at 5:10 a.m. today when his car went off highway 101 about five miles north of Novato.

Manley, driving south, stepped on the dimmer switch and the headlights of his car went out, It bounced off the roadway. He was being treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Muslim Head Guarded Amid Death Plot Fears

CHICAGO (AP) — Police intensified security measures over a six-block area of the city's South Side today amid reports that the leader of the Black Muslims was marked for death.

Detectives were posted at airports, bus depots and train stations looking for six men reported en route to murder Elijah Muhammad.

Squad cars cruised the area of Muhammad's 18-room mansion. The six blocks between the home and the Black Muslims' Mosque No. 2 were kept clear of suspicious persons.

The soft-spoken Muhammad expressed no fear of reprisal and denied that the Black Muslims were involved in the fatal shooting of Malcolm X Sunday in New York City.

New York investigators have speculated that the slaying of Malcolm may have resulted from the 15-month feud between the leaders of the Muslims and Malcolm's splinter black nationalist group.

Chicago police verified reports that six followers of Malcolm had departed on separate missions to avenge Malcolm's death.

Muhammad said the police weren't requested. Black Muslims do not approve of carrying weapons.

In a news conference yesterday, Muhammad, 67, said, "We are innocent of Malcom X's death."

"We have been making an investigation to find where the assassin came from. We cannot find him. He is not one of ours. I don't believe any of my followers were there."

The Black Muslims claim the Negro race is the superior race and call the whites "white devils." Muhammad preaches separation of races, and in his teachings abhors integration.

The exact membership of the organization has never been released.

Malcolm X broke with the Black Muslims when he was the heir apparent to Muhammad.

"Malcolm was a victim of his own preachings," Muhammad said. "He preached violence."

Kerosene Ignited At Black Muslim Meeting Place

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kerosene was thrown and ignited on the sidewalk and door of the Black Muslim meeting place in San Francisco today, police reported.

Damage was slight, according to the patroling officers who spotted the blaze at 1872 Post Street, a few moments after it started. They said they saw no one when they walked past the building a few moments earlier.

It was unknown whether the fire had any connection with the killing of Muslim defector Malcolm X in New York Sunday.

Police said the kerosene produced weak flames that didn't build up sufficient heat to do much damage. Firemen had an easy time putting out the blaze.

Police cars were assigned to cruise past the building with greater frequency after the incident.

They were picketing in protest of the draft. Barnes, a 20-year veteran, was manning tank and recoilles rifle display at a Washington's Birthday promotion. Work To Begin At Sunny Hills

Work is to begin this week on construction of $610,000 new facility on Sunny Hills property in San Anselmo.

Contract for the job was awarded yesterday by the Sunny Hills board of directors to Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, lowest of seven bidders.

The job calls for four cottages and a main building around a central court. The main building will include offices, school rooms, a dispensary, storage, and multipurpose and conference rooms. The cottages, each for 10 boys, will have their own kitchens.

Earlier plans had called for a swimming pool, but this had to be cut after bids last fall came in higher than budget limits.

"We are hopeful that gifts from Sunny Hills friends may restore this needed recreational feature to the project," Mrs. Robert Kettenbach, Sunny Hills president, said.

The site is on the southern portion of the Sunny Hills property. Present buildings will be torn down soon after the new buildings are finished.

Architects are Gromme and Priestley of San Rafael.

Hobby Shop Is On Agenda

Attilio Malatesta tonight will seek an opinion from the Larkspur Planning Commission whether a hobby shop and a slot car race track, proposed for 484 Magnolia Avenue, will need a use permit. The commission will meet at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The site of the proposed hobby shop is the same as that planned for a billiard parlor last year. If the commission decides the slot car operation is mainly an amusement business, a use permit will be required.

The commission is also scheduled to act on architectural supervision of an addition to a cabinet shop at 2074 Redwood Highway, reqested by F. G. Larson, and to set a hearing date on slope zoning policy.

Man Is Injured In Cycle Crash

William A. Manley Jr., 33, of Santa Clara, suffered a fractured leg when he was thrown from his motorcycle as it smashed head-on into a car driven by Sister Jean, a teacher at Dominican Lower School at 10:45 a.m. yesterday.

Manley was charged by Cilifornia highway patrolmen with driving on the wrong side of the road. The collision happened four miles south of Olema on the Shoreline Highway.

He was reported in "satisfactory" condition after being transferred from Marin General Hospital to O'Conner Hospital in San Jose.

Bedroom Tax Is On Agenda

The Novato City Council will receive an attorney general's opinion on the constitutionality of a bedroom tax when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The council asked for a copy of a Modesto ordinance taxing bedrooms to raise funds for parks, and for an attorney general's opinion on its constitutionality.

The council is expected to enact an ordinance moving the burglar alarm panel from the main fire station to the Novato Police Station and setting the fees for alarm service.

Novato Trustees Meet Tonight

Trustees of the new Novato Unified School District will hear recommendations on next term's high school courses when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the Novato district administration building.

Husband Is Booked In Beating

A quarrel over the children yesterday led to the arrest of a Novato tavern owner on a felony wife beating charge.

Richard David Wells, 41, of 1425 Park Avenue, Novato, owner of the Town Club at 1005 Grant Avenue, was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $550.

His wife, Mrs. Helen E. Wells, told police that she was awakened in the morning when their 18-month-old son, Richard, needed attention. She then crawled in bed with the baby. Her husband grew angry at this and beat her, she told police.

Marion Louise Rosse of 1032 Sixth Street, Novato, who was baby sitting for the Wells, confirmed the wife's story. She told police Wells also threatened to kill her before he let her out of the house.

When Mrs. Wells tried to phone her brother to pick her up, Wells tore the phone from the wall, police reported.

The two women took Richard and another son, Drew, 1 month old, and left the house. They walked to Grant Avenue near the Town Club where she hailed the police. Officers found Wells at the home.

Two Boats Refloated

The Coast Guard Rescue crew was called out to refloat two boats yesterday which got into difficulties in San Francisco Bay.

Donald A. Grimes of Walnut Creek took a ducking when his 12-foot sailing boat capsized off Sausalito. But he was unhurt and a Coast Guard cutter took him aboard while they refloated his vessel.

Three people who got stranded on Red Rock also had their 15-footer refloated by the crew after they were spotted at 4:20 p. m. One of them was the owner, M. Mahn of San Quentin.

25 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS MAR MARIN'S THREE-DAY HOLIDAY

Twenty-five traffic accidents marred the three-day holiday in Marin, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The total is one less than the 26 accidents reported for the previous week's three-day weekend. Twenty-six persons suffered injuries during the period from 6 p. m. Friday through Monday.

SEVEN HOURS OF WORK

Day Spent Shining Shoes, Then Earnings Are Stolen

Thirteen-year-old Edwin D. Hyde spent seven hours of his holiday from school yesterday shining shoes on San Rafael's downtown Fourth Street.

At 4:25 p.m., he later told police, he was standing in front of the Rafael Theater, 1118 Fourth Street, gazing at the $5 bill which constituted most of his earnings for the day.

Then two youths walked by and snatched the bill from his hand. When he woefully reported the incident to police, Edwin had only a corner of the bill left to show them. He said the two youths looked to be about 16.

San Rafael police also learned yesterday of break-ins at the Terra Linda Medical Center, 300 Las Gallinas Avenue, and at a San Francisco man's summer home.

Officers found two doors of the medical center pried open at 7 a.m. The office of Dr. Ralph W. Jacobs had been ransacked and a secretary's desk gone through, but nothing was missing.

John M. Rosshirt of San Francisco said his house at 1553 Lincoln Avenue had been entered sometime this month by someone who broke a window and made off with a $30 pair of binoculars.

Fairchild Union Election Slated

Employees of San Rafael's Fairchild Semiconductor plant will vote April 1 on whether to be represented in collective bargaining by the International Assn. of Machinists.

The election, which had been asked for by Machinists Local 238, was approved by the National Labor Relations Board last week, according to the local's business manager, James Issell.

Issell said about 450 employees of the plant are involved.

The firm has been non-union since it started operations here in late 1959. Its management contends that employees are getting as many benefits and as high wages without the union.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) – One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results – here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids – without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) – discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Kibitzer Intervenes To Settle Argument In Game

During National Kibitzer's Week let us pay tribute to the thousands of unselfish bridge enthusiasts who sit out while a hand is played and then call attention to the errors in bidding and play.

What would we do without them?

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West led the queen of hearts, and declarer won in dummy with the king. He led a trump, and East stepped up with the ace to return a heart.

DOWN ONE

South played on, but lost a trick in each suit. Down one.

"You were short one point for your jump raise," South grumbled to his partner. "I'd have made the game if you had held the jack of clubs."

"My raise was as good as your opening bid," North retorted. "If one of us needed an extra point, why couldn't you have the jack of clubs?"

NO FAULT

The kibitzer settled the argument by telling them who was wrong. What would you say if you were this kibitzer? Decide for yourself before you read on.

The kibitzer wound no fault with the bidding. Perhaps both players stretched a trifle, but South should have made his game.

Declarer must move quickly to prevent the loss of a heart trick. The only hope is to discard one of dummy's hearts on a good diamond.

SECOND TRICK

At the second trick declarer must lead the jack of diamonds from dummy. East covers with the queen, and South must play low.

East returns a heart to dummy's ace, and declarer leads the other diamond from dummy to win a finesse with the ten. Then he discards dummy's last heart on the ace of diamonds.

There's a fair chance that South will go down two instead of just one if this plan fails, but it pays to take this kind of risk when there is no other chance to make game.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump.

This is a maximum holding for this weak response, since you have 10 points in high cards, but you have no other reasonable bid to make The hand is not quite strong enough for a response of two diamonds.

Labor Plans NATO Review For Britain

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government today called for a full review of North Atlantic Treaty Organization strategy to ease Britain's defense burden.

Defense Secretary Denis Healey told the House of Commons in a defense White Paper that the Labor government had inherited from the Conservatives a seriously overstretched and dangerously underequipped defense establishment.

He said he had immediately instituted a full policy survey and set up machinery for a cost-effectiveness study of army, navy and air force operations. This was believed similar to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's review of U.S. defense expenditure.

Healey was defending the government's announced intention of spending $6,036,000,000 for defense during the 1965-66 fiscal year beginning April 1.

This represents an increase of 2.3 per cent over defense spending in 1964-65.

Visits Spaceport

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said his first visit to the nation's spaceport was "fantastic, a richly rewarding experience." He spent six hours yesterday visiting launching pads.

Russ Celebrate, Rattle Rockets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today celebrated the 47th anniversary of its armed forces against the backdrop of anti-American rocket-rattling.

"We make no secret of the fact we possess nuclear warheads of unsurpassed power which are in the possession of our rocket troops," Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky said in an article in the Communist party newspaper Pravda.

Malinovsky, in his order of the day, called for artillery salutes of 20 salvos in Moscow and the "hero cities" of Leningrad, Sevastopol and Odessa. Celebrations, parades and special concerts were scheduled throughout the cauntry to mark the Soviet army-navy day.

It was the second day in a row that Malinovsky had boasted of Soviet strength while criticizing American policies.

In a televised speech yesterday, the defense chief warned the hostilities in Viet Nam could mushroom into a "great war" that would send imperialism to "its grave."

Malinovsky compared "imperialist" powers to "a small dog barking at an elephant."

Bank Bags Source Is Being Sought

Police were today trying to trace the source of between 25 and 40 bank bags found by a California Highway Patrol officer yesterday by the roadside on 101 Highway near Petaluma.

The bags, which were in a cardboard box, bore names of First National Bank, Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank. San Rafael High School was named on some of them. All were recovered in good condition. And all were empty.

Park Group Meeting On Master Plan

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission will have a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center to complete its recommendations on the county-wide master plan for parks, recreation and open space.

The commission's recommendations will be sent to the county planning commission, which will have a hearing on the plan next Monday.

Marin Farm Bureau Picks James Marshall

JAMES A. MARSHALL
Heads farm bureau

Marin County Farm Bureau members yesterday elected James A. Marshall of Tomales as president, succeeding Eugene Brown, also of Tomales.

Elected to serve with Marshall, at the annual meeting at the Lodge in Novato, were Clarence A. Rogers of Olema, vice president, and James Grossi of Novato, treasurer.

Following election of the officers and of six directors, the board of directors voted to combine the Tomales and Novato Farm Bureau centers, and the Nicasio and Point Reyes centers. The effect will be to eliminate those in Tomales and Nicasio.

PLAQUE GIVEN

A plaque commemorating the 50th year of the California Agricultural Extension Service was presented to Winston L. Engvall, county farm adviser, by Roy A. Parks of Tomales, on behalf of the Farm Bureau.

Speaker was Warren R. Schoonover, agriculturalist emeritus of University of California. His subject was listed as "Can Egypt Feed Herself?" The talk, however, was principally on the question of whether the United States should send foodstuffs to the United Arab Republic.

Schoonover served in Egypt 10 years ago as a soils consultant and returned in the same role last year.

PAYING RUSSIA

He said the Egyptian cotton crop "is mortgaged for years ahead to pay Russia for the high dam at Aswan." The dam, he said, will provide enough water to add another million acres to the six million now irrigated in the Nile Valley. But he said the U.A.R. "will be hard-pressed to find a million acres of land that can be irrigated." Most of its land is not worth watering," he contended.

Egypt gets 30 per cent of its food from the United States, said Schoonover. This is paid for in Egyptian pounds. But, he said, the Egyptian pound is worthless on the world market and can be spent only in Egypt.

Contending that the U.A.R. has put itself in the Russian orbit, Schoonover left his audience with the question, "Should we continue to feed them when they are working against us?"

Farm Bureau members elected Brown, Charles Clarkson, George Duncan, Manuel Gonsalves, Wilfred V. Lafranchi and Fred Terza to the board of directors.

Holdover directors are Parks, Chris Baur, A. J. Bianchi, Harold Bloom, H. J. Edrington, Robert W. Giacomini, George Grossi, Kenneth Kehoe, Donald J. McIsaac, Camillo Morelli, Anthony Nunes, Marvin L. Nunes and John Volpi.

Two Youths Charged In Vehicle Theft

San Anselmo police yesterday arrested two youths, and charged them with stealing a foreign-made station wagon and abandoning it somewhere near Red Bluff.

Booked for car theft and contributing to the delinquency of a minor was Arie Leon Kelley, 19, from Oklahoma, with no local address but found staying in a shack in Woodacre. He was held in lieu of $1,100 bail and was to appear today for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court.

His 14-year-old companion, a Lagunitas resident, was sent to juvenile hall.

San Anselmo police said the car was owned by Ronald D. Prock, 550 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, and was stolen from in front of his home Wednesday. Prock told police Kelley had driven the car in the past but had been refused its use and had been angry.

Police said Kelley told them he abandoned the auto when it ran out of oil and the motor froze.

Another Seeks Fire Board Post

Edward R. Smith of 73 Orchard Way, Novato, yesterday took out nomination papers for the one position open on the Novato fire board, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

Smith is the fifth person to take out nomination papers for the fire district board, but only one, Henry V. Alvernaz of 1048 Eighth Street, Novato, has returned his papers, the chief said.

Deadline for returning the papers is noon Thursday. Election will be April 20.

Others who have taken out nomination papers for the position now held by Joseph Wright, who is not seeking re-election, are Frank D. Helbing, Kenneth Roche and W. H. Lieb.

Complete Course

Marine Privates Charles E. Loux, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Loux of 3 Branch Avenue, Larkspur, and Jay W. deBeaubien, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. deBeaubien of 37 Staghound Passage, Corte Madera, have completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Camp Pendleton.

More Debate Is Due For Hingsbergen

Lester H. Hingsbergen of 32 Dellwood Court, San Rafael, did not go back to work today as chief Northern California investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The reason is that there is going to be more legal debate on his status.

Hingsbergen was fired in June, 1963, after charges that he used coercion to get fellow employees to sell raffle tickets and that he accepted gifts in exchange for favors. He was also charged with having employees run errands for him on state time.

On Feb. 3, Judge Joseph Karesh of San Francisco Superior Court ruled that there was no evidence to support coercion or the acceptance of favors. The judge also said clearer rules are needed on the non-state errand issue.

The judge reinstated Hingsbergen as of today and ordered that he receive back pay of $946 a month, less what he had earned as a car salesman in that time.

However, the state attorney general has appealed the judge's ruling. This will delay the reinstatement at least until after the district court of appeals decides the case.

Hearing Is Due In Needle Case

A 15-year-old San Quentin youth is scheduled for a disturbing the peace hearing before sheriff's juvenile officers at 9:30 a.bm. tomorrow after allegedly threatening another youth with a hypodermic needle.

Officers said Joseph H. Geurtz Jr., House 76, San Quentin, was reportedly chased by the suspect at the prison's tennis courts Saturday. The latter told deputies he obtained the empty needle from a sick friend's home.

The first homestead was at Beatrice, Neb. in 1863.

Woman Span Leaper Identified By Mother

The woman who leaped from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday was identified today as Mrs. Blossom Crim, an unemployed bakery helper of San Francisco.

Her mother, who made the identification, could give no reason why Mrs. Crim took her life.

Mrs. Crim, 33, resided with her mother at 698B Fell Street. The mother, Mrs. Lillian Robinson, told San Francisco coroner's officers that she had read of the jump in newspapers. She notified the coroner's office when her daughter did not return home.

Mrs. Crim apparently took a bus to the bridge, as bus ticket stubs were found in her purse with a few cents in change. There was no identification.

She walked to the south tower and leaped more than 200 feet into the water, disregarding the shouts of two bridge workers who raced to stop her.

Bridge electricians Joseph Magreo and Joseph Travato, both of San Francisco, had just gone onto the bridge walkway from the elevator within the tower where they were fixing a tower light.

They saw the woman about to jump and dashed forward.

"Lady, you can't do that!" Travato yelled.

Mrs. Crim jumped and landed face down within the water-filled concrete moat which surrounds the tower base to protect it from storms and tidal eddies.

Coast Guardsmen who raced to the moat in a boat had to clamber over the concrete walls before they could lift Mrs. Crim aboard in a basket-stretcher.

They reported she moaned. But by the time she arrived at Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio, less than half an hour after she jumped, she was dead.

Problem Of Illiterate Americans Studied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There are eight million Americans so illiterate they can't fill out an employment form, according to a top official of the U.S. Office of Education.

Dr. Walter M. Arnold Assistant commissioner of the Office of Education, warned yesterday that in this day of automation and technical advance, the nation can't afford such a horde of "functional illiterates."

Arnold spoke at the opening session of a three-day conference of vocational and technical educational officials from western states.

Arnold said that in the past there had been little worry about 50 per cent who dropout of school, but that now it is one of the nation's most urgent problems.

"But an even more real problem," he said, "is adapting ourselves to new perspectives in curriculum needs. Dr. Robert Oppenheimer has said that man's knowledge of the universe (now) doubles every eight years."

"If you add to that the estimate that our (educational) methods lag from 20 to 50 years, you have a situation that needs work right now."

The conference kicks off a drive to implement the Vocational Educational Act of 1963 under which, through federal grants, the states seek to train and retrain youths and adults in new skills needed by industry. The act is part of the Johnson adminstration's war on poverty campaign.

Arnold pointed to the 8 million illiterates and 23 million adults who never completed the eight grade as indicators that the program was a needed one.

Almonte Says Mill Valley Has No Sewer Jurisdiction

Almonte Sanitary District directors last night agreed that the City of Mill Valley has no jurisdiction in inspection of Almonte's sewer lines and asked Director Richard J. Dawe to pursue the question with City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

The board had been told by Balmer, reported chairman Robert A. Alexander, that due to infiltration in lines, in the future they must be inspected by a registered engineer.

"Though G. V. S. Harvey, the district's inspector, is not a licensed engineer, we think he is capable, qualified and dedicated," said Alexander, "and we do not feel Mill Valley has jurisdiction in this regard."

The board agreed to notify Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District that Almonte will terminate existing agreements with it next Aug. 31 to give Tamalpais time to install a sewer line near Cleveland Court, an area now serviced by Almonte although in Tamalpais' district. This action was taken on a request by the City of Mill Valley.

Highway Lanes Not Closed Yet

Center lanes of Highway 101 between Greenbrae and San Rafael were not closed today as expected for the start of work on a median barrier.

Work will probably not start until tomorrow or Thursday.

Lt. William H. Porter, area executive officer of the California Highway Patrol, said only one lane will be closed at a time.

The barrier will extend north of the San Rafael viaduct.

A quarter-million Cubans have left the island.

Legislative Plans To Punish U.C. Speech Sit-Ins Protested

The Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union has asked the county's state legislators to oppose any bill designed to punish University of California students or teachers for their part in the school's free speech controversy.

In a letter signed by chapter chairman Robert B. Pence of Mill Valley, the ACLU's Marin County board issued its plea to Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

State Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, has proposed a constitutional amendment and two resolutions calling for the expulsion of students and the firing of faculty members convicted of crimes committed during such campus demonstrations.

Similar resolutions have been introduced in the Assembly.

Pence's letter said the ACLU board had "heard with shock and dismay" of the proposed legislation.

"The demonstrators asked for no more than the rights of advocacy and speech delineated in the First and 14th Amendments of the United States Constitution," it said.

Noting that courts would impose "appropriate penalties" for any law infractions, Pence declared, "Such punishment is sufficient."

"The Board believes that imposition of additional penalties after the fact is not only contrary to American ideals of justice but is unworthy of the people of California.

"Such legislation would encourage a timid conformity, punish the exercise of democratic rights of protest, and work an unjust hardship on young people sufficiently dedicated to principle to risk punishment under present law."

Author Mitford Says College Knuckled Under

STOCKTON (UPI) — Author Jessica Mitford had termed cancellation of her scheduled speech at San Joaquin Delta College Feb. 9 "a sad capitulation by people in public trust who knuckled under rather than take a stand on principle."

Miss Mitford spoke last night before an enthusiastic crowd of 1,000 at University of Pacific. The California Teachers Association and the school's YMCA chapter invited her here after Dr. Burke Bradley, president of nearby Delta College, cancelled her scheduled speech because she was "controversial."

The outspoken author of the best-selling "American Way of Death" blamed pressure from the industry and its "right-wing allies" for forcing the cancellation.

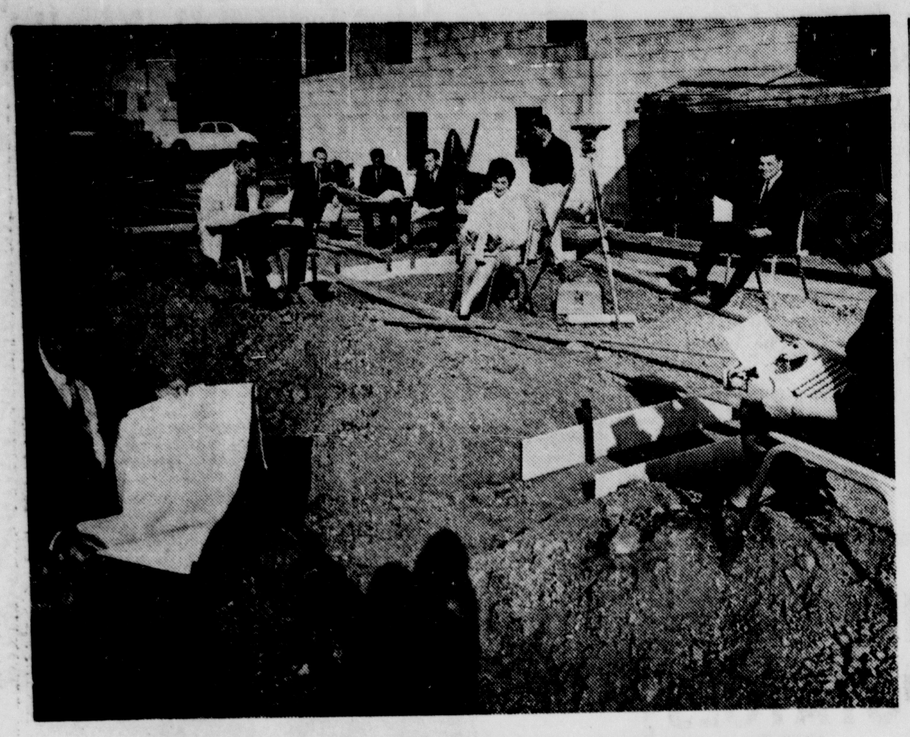

Cancer Death Rate Declines

NEW YORY (UPI) — Cancer among women is slowly declining, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., reported today.

The company said the death rate from cancer among women dropped 10 per cent in the period of 1950 to 1962. Much of the decline stemmed from reduction in death from malignancies of the digestive system and the uterus.

The death rate from stomach cancer showed a 37 per cent reduction during the period. Deaths from breast cancer, the leading malignancy among women, remained relatively stable.

NO WEATHER FOR INSIDE OFFICE WORK

George Broden (left), owner of Marin County Office Equipment, San Rafael, thought it was too nice a day to spend behind a desk, so moved across the street to his lot on Lootens Place to study plans for his new building under construction. Not to be left out of the sunshine, his entire staff followed with portable typewriters, adding machines and paper work and set up "field operations."

Steels Pace Market To Substantial Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels were strong, pacing the stock market to a substantial gain at the close today. Trading was active.

Jones & Laughlin gained more than 2, U.S. Steel well over a point. Bethlehem and Republic Steel spurted a point or so.

Record steel production and bullish brokerage house comments were factors in the rally of steel shares.

The rest of the market was already considerably higher when the steels came to life.

Zenith advanced more than 2, as did Polaroid. Up more than a point were United Aircraft, Kennecott, Scherring.

Ford gained a point, American Telephone a fraction. Du Pont was down nearly a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.6 million shares compared with 5.56 million Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The market was higher from the start and improved as the session continued.

Gains of fractions to a point or so prevailed among key stocks. A wide variety of secondary issues showed strength.

Gains of nearly 2 points by Eastman Kodak and United Aircraft bolstered averages.

Up a point or so were International Harvester, Anaconda and Polaroid.

SOME PENSION COSTS ARE DEDUCTIBLE

(From the California Society of Certified Public Accountants)

Amounts received as pensions are taxable income in their entirety unless you contributed to the cost of financing the pension. If you did (and this is usually done by way of payroll deductions a part of each pension payment is a return of your cost and is not taxable income.

The annual amount which is not taxable is generally the sum of your contributions to the cost of the pension divided by the number of years of expectation of life, based on Internal Revenue Service tables, which you had at date of retirement.

If pensions are payable over the life of more than one person, say yourself and your wife, tables of joint expectation of life must be used to compute the annual amount which is not taxable.

Miller, Lux Operation To Remain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The dissolution of Miller & Lux, Inc. and distribution of $40 million in assets to eight heirs of the late land baron Henry Miller will mean little if any change in operations of the San Joaquin Valley land and oil holdings involved.

Henry M. Bowles, president and one of eight heirs, said today the decision to dissolve was voted last Friday mainly on tax considerations.

The problem of taxes is fundamental in business these days. "We acted out of consideration for the legitimate advantage of the stockholdes and the corporation," Bowles said.

He reported a plan for division of the assets already has been agreed on and approved.

He said the Bowles Farming Co., which he heads, already is operating the Miller & Lux lands in Merced County. The operating arrangement for Kern County properties has not yet been worked out.

Sausalito's Oldest Buildings House Two New Businesses

Ground floor space in a pair of Sausalito's oldest buildings along the waterfront has recently been given over to two new businesses.

Now formally opened is Dolphin Fashions at 581 Bridgeway, a custom dress shop owned by Mrs. Wanda Fudge. She has installed cutting tables and employs two seamstresses. Original ready-to-wear is also sold. The store is open Mondays through Saturdays from noon to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Fudge formerly worked for Jack Payne in La Jolla and La Fiesta Import Shop on Balboa Island. A Navy wife, she says she has picked up many fabrics from all over the world during her travels.

Across the court at 579 Bridgeway, newly opened is Lydie's, a store selling cosmetics and facial makeup, operated by Mrs. Lydie Cappie, who was eight years with Antoine of Paris.

The twin buildings are said to be 104 years old. Interior decorations include many valuable and period furnishings.

DONALD J. ANDERSON of Sleepy Hollow has been appointed senior research chemist at the Richmond laboratory of California Research Corp. A graduate of Liverpool Technical College, Dr. Anderson received his Ph.D. in organic chemistry from the University of Illinois in 1960. His discoveries of new lubricating oil additives are said to include several promising new detergents, oxidation and rust inhibitors and extreme pressure agents.

Dr. Anderson

PATRON OF HAITIAN ART Maggi Walker of Larkspur will have a new art and gift shop—Haiti Cheri—open Friday at 474 Magnolia Avenue next door to her real estate office.

Featured will be paintings, wood carvings, sisal and straw baskets and hats. Helping her in this endeavor are Haitians Edoard Celidor and artist Paul Beauvoir and his wife Irmide.

Promoting Haiti's arts and crafts is a consuming project with Mrs. Walker who became interested during her travels in this country. She says not many people have gotten acquainted with its fine works—and now's their chance.

THERE IS NO TRUTH to rumors that negotiations are under way by Redwood National Bank, San Rafael to sell out or merge with another bank, says Byron W. Leydecker, Redwood's president.

Leydecker said the bank's directors are not even considering any such proposals at this time. He added that since investigation of Redwood's affairs by the controller of the currency the bank has been shown to be strong and healthy and there would be no reason to sell.

Redwood's annual stockholders meeting will be held during the last part of April.

SEVEN Marin County firms were awarded contracts totaling $146,328 by military and civilian purchasing agencies of the government during January in cooperation with the "Set Aside Program" of the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Successful bidders were: Lloyd Hunter Co., Novato—two contracts for $5,091 and $9,977 for building repairs and maintenance of family housing; W. K. McClellan Co., San Anselmo $8,080 for road repairs; in San Rafael—C. Dorwald $2,822 for lawn seeding; Knowes, Inc. $19,787 for furnace maintenance; Murray Baxter General Contracting Co. $89,624 for building repairs; Northgate Electric Co. $6,718 for building alterations; and Shields Construction Co. $6,229 for building repairs.

MARK ANDERSEN of Woodacre, formerly co-partner in Bryan-Andersen Travel, San Francisco, is now with Small World Travel which opened at 25 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley last November.

Networks See No CBS Advantage With Yankees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for two other television networks testified today they don't believe the Columbia Broadcasting System gained any unfair advantage over them by buying control of the New York Yankees last year.

In statements to the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, which is investigating the deal, they put it this way:

Thomas W. Moore, president of the American Broadcasting Co.: "ABC-TV has no cause for concern with the transaction at the present time."

Julian Goodman, vice president in charge of sports for the National Broadcasting Co.: "Will the CBS ownership of the Yankees give them an unfair advantage? We think not."

Goodman, in prepared testimony, said NBC has no present plan to buy a baseball franchise, but might buy one some day.

The subcommittee, under chairmanship of Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is investigating whether the Yankees' purchase by CBS has shown a need for new antitrust laws to deal with the major professional sports of baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

Baseball now has certain antitrust exemptions under a Supreme Court decision. Football, basketball and hockey are operating under an assumption that the exemption extends to them, although the court declined to expand its decision on baseball.

Hart is the chief sponsor of a bill which would spell out limited and uniform exemptions for all four sports.

Yankee games are televised in the New York area by an independent network.

Moore told the senators, "It would be speculative for me to suggest that CBS ownership of the Yankees in and of itself would prevent us from bidding for Yankee broadcast contracts when and if the national television rights were available to public bidding or would otherwise adversely affect our position."

Goodman said NBC sees "no impact" from CBS purchase of the team on NBC's rights to bid for New York area local broadcasting of Yankee games.

He said NBC has no Game of the Week broadcasting plans for this year because the deal seemed more costly than it was worth to the network.

"But it wasn't the CBS-Yankee deal that led to that result," he added.

NBC's contracts for televising World Series and the All-Star game will extend through 1966. Goodman said these contracts are awarded by the baseball commissioner's office, and "there will be no possibility of impact upon NBC until our present contract runs out."

His network will be "very interested in renewing" the contracts then, Goodman said, but it sees no evidence that CBS will have an unfair edge in the bidding at that time.

Clay-Liston Rematch Is Set

Heavyweight Title Fight Rescheduled For May 25

BOSTON (AP) — When Cassius Clay finally defends his heavyweight title against Sonny Liston May 25 each will receive around $800,000. They can thank Floyd Patterson for an anticipated fatter purse.

The date for the rescheduled match at Boston Garden was announced yesterday. Originally set for last Nov. 16, the fight was postponed when Clay underwent emergency surgery for a hernia.

Harold Conrad of Intercontinental Promotions, Inc. said the delay actually will benefit the box office, adding: "We expect this fight to go over $5 million, which would be a record. Our thinking last November was that it would go a couple of hundred thousand under $5 million.

All contract stipulations agreed to last September remain in force, including the fact each contestant will receive 30 per cent of the net of all income related to the fight. Thus the $800,000 figure Conrad mentioned.

The announcement was made almost a year to the day after Liston yielded the championship to Clay seated on a stool in his corner in Miami Beach. The reason given was a shoulder injury but the result was a low ebb for boxing.

The renaissance Conrad underscores since last fall is centered on the recent Patterson-George Chuvalo war in New York.

"Clay did a lot to get that fight off the ground," Conrad said.

But ex-champion Patterson's victory, and the manner of it, gave the heavyweight division a much-needed shot in the arm.

The new Floyd, minus the china chin, not only helped the coming Clay-Liston battle but now offers a much more readily acceptable opponent for the winner.

The winner here must post $50,000 guaranteeing he will sign to defend within six months of May 25 and fight within a year from that date. The opponent must be one of the top four challengers as ranked by Ring Magazine, explained Conrad, local promoter Sam Silverman and Massachusetts State Boxing Commissioners Tom Rawson and Ed Urbec.

The fight is not recognized as a title match by the World Boxing Association.

Conrad said Robert Hurleigh, president of Mutual Broadcasting System, has told him the network has added 10 more stations to the 633 set to carry it on radio Nov. 16.

He also said Fred Brooks, president of Sports Vision, which handles the closed-circuit television, expects to retain the 242 locations it had set and to add more.

The fight will be on a Tuesday night instead of a Monday as indicated originally. Conrad explained a circus would be at Boston Garden the previous Sunday and that the extra time was needed to prepare for the fight.

Liston, already working lightly and down to 215 pounds, is expected to return to his previous White Cliffs camp at Plymouth, Mass., by the middle of March.

Clay, who will box two exhibitions in Chicago Saturday, will head for Miami Beach March 1 and then come into Boston for his final training 3-4 weeks before the fight.

Bunning Signs With Phils; Bouton Inks Yankee Pact

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning hasn't felt better since last June 21. Jim Bouton, Ralph Houk and CBS are one big happy family. Now, if Ford Frick could see eye to eye with Masanori Murakami . . .

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game for the Philadelphia Phillies eight months ago, signed a 1965 contract yesterday that catapulted the 33-year-old right-hander into super-star salary status.

Bouton, young right-handed ace of the network-owned New York Yankees pitching staff, who waged a brief but bitter salary feud with General Manager Houk last winter, also agreed to 1965 terms — at a solid pay boost.

But Murakami, the Japanese southpaw who finished last season with the San Francisco Giants, insisted he has no yen for either the American dollar or the National League.

Commissioner Frick has broken off relations with the Japanese leagues as a result of the Murakami contract dispute between the Giants and Japan's Nankai Hawks. Yesterday, the 20-year-old pitcher told Tokyo newsmen he intends to stay home.

"I want to remain here and play in Japan. Murakami said after conferring with Japanese Commissioner Yushi Uchimura. "Even if the commissioner had urged me to play in the United States for a year, I would not have changed my mind."

The Giants claim they purchased his contract from Nankai for $10,000 and have his signature on a 1965 pact. The Hawks contend they loaned the youngster to the National League club for one year.

Bunning, who retired 27 New York Mets in order last June 21, recording the first perfect game in the NL in 84 years, said he was "very pleased" with his new contract. "You can say it's in the $50,000 to $60,000 bracket," he said after signing at the Phillies' Clearwater, Fla., spring camp.

Bunning reportedly received $35,000 in 1964, when he won 19 games after being acquired from Detroit in a winter deal and was named comeback player of the year.

Bouton, 25, an 18-game winner for the Yankees, and 2-0 in the World Series, signed for an estimated $29,000. He had been seeking a $12,500 raise to $30,000. Last year he held out for a $10,000 boost to $20,00 but signed reluctantly on March 11 after Houk threatened to dock him $10 for every day he missed spring training. He had a a 21-7 record in 1963.

The Yankees said Bouton and relief pitcher Steve Hamilton reached agreement with Houk by telephone last weekend. "Bouton signed for a considerable raise, which he deserved," a club spokesman said. "Hamilton agreed to a moderate raise."

Bouton was in Atlanta Monday night for a banquet and unavailable for comment. Mrs. Bouton, at home in Ridgewood, N.J., said, "I don't believe Jim would have agreed to his contract unless he got what he wanted."

Bouton, who led the team with a 3.02 earned run average last season, was the last Yankee regular to come to terms. The AL champs have 32 players in the fold.

Without Juan, Giants Would Be Rated As Just Another Team

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four articles on Juan Marichal, greatest Giant pitcher since Carl Hubbell.)

HANLEY

Juan Marichal has been known as the Dominican Dandy since the night of his major league debut, July 19, 1960, when he shutout the Phillies 2-0 on a one-hitter in Candlestick Park.

In the four intervening seasons since his mid-season start as a rookie, Marichal has come a long way and every baseball fan knows that the 1965 fate of the Giants rides on Marichal's high-kicking delivery.

NATURALLY, HE can't win a pennant by himself but without him the Giants wouldn't be rated as co-favorites with the Cardinals, Phillies and Dodgers for this year's National League flag.

In his 4½ major league campaigns, Marichal has fashioned a mighty impressive 83-39 record that includes the first no-hitter by a Giant pitcher since 1929, a memorable 16-inning 1-0 triumph over the great Warren Spahn, more than a score of other low-hit productions and consecutive 20-game seasons for the past two years.

If it had not been for an aching back that caused him to miss six starts last August, Marichal might have topped his 25-8 record of 1963. As it was, he finished 21-8 and the Giants finished three games behind the pennant-winning Cardinals.

MARICHAL IS a fierce competitor, especially against first division opposition. There have been occasions when he seemingly was careless against second division clubs with the resultant loss of games in late innings. But June 16, 1963, in Candlestick Park was not one of those occasions. That was the day Marichal spun his no-hitter against Houston.

Perhaps it was the stiff opposition provided by Dick Drott that prodded Marichal into his no-hit performance. Drott took a one-hit shutout into the eighth when a pair of doubles by Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller scored the only run of the game.

Carl Hubbell saw the tense Marichal-Drott duel and labeled Marichal's performance "a masterpiece of concentration on every pitch."

"WHEN I PITCHED my no-hitter for the Giants in 1929 we won 11-0 and I had plenty of runs to work on," Hubbell said. "But Marichal didn't get a run until the eighth inning. So he couldn't even think about bearing down for a no-hitter until the ninth. First, he had to worry about winning."

Less than a month after his no-hitter, Marichal found himself locked in another great pitching duel. This time it was with Spahn. On the night of July 2, 1963, in Candlestick, Marichal and the southpaw master battled in scoreless deadlock until Willie Mays finally ended it with a one-out homer off Spahn in the 16th inning.

(Tomorrow: Who taught Marichal how to pitch?)

Stiff Test For Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan and Providence, each with an impressive season's mark, face stiff tests tonight in their efforts to maintain a high ranking in The Associated Press major college basketball poll and both hope they make out better than Indiana's seventh-ranked Hoosiers.

Indiana held onto its spot despite a one-point loss to Michigan in double overtime last week but the Hoosiers slipped again last night dropping an 82-70 decision to Purdue. Dave Schellhase led the Boilermakers with 32 points.

The loss eliminated Indiana, which has suffered three of its four losses this season on Monday nights, from the Big Ten race. Top-ranked Michigan, tackles No. 8 Minnesota in a key Big Ten test tonight.

Providence, the nation's only undefeated team and ranked No. 4, faces a tough hurdle at Duke moved into fifth place ahead of Davidson. Indiana remained in seventh. Minnesota climbed one notch to eight while Vanderbilt and New Mexico the only new teams in the Top Ten this week, took over ninth and 10th.

The only other ranked team to see action yesterday was No. 9 Vanderbilt which eased past Georgia 89-72. John Ed Miller's 24 points led the Commodores who remained on top of the Philadelphia against Villanova tonight in another key game.

Michigan remained the solid leader in the latest balloting by a panel of 35 regional experts. However, a loss to the Gophers tonight not only would cost the Wolverines their spot atop the Big Ten but could boost second ranked UCLA into the top spot.

Michigan collected 17 votes for first place and 321 points for games through last Saturday. UCLA held second place with 280 points followed by St. Joseph's, Pa., 258 points and Providence 234. St. Joseph's moved past the Friars into the third slot.

Southeastern Conference race.

In other major games yesterday, Tennessee whacked Auburn 69-38, Wake Forest nipped Virginia, 74-72, Ohio State downed Michigan State 101-90, Ohio University defeated Chicago Loyola 84-76, Creighton took Marquette 78-68 and Utah State turned back Seattle 71-67.

Indiana, Tennessee and Wichita were the only members of last week's Top Ten to go down to defeat. The setbacks dropped the Vols and the Shockers from the ratings.

Indiana dropped a 96-95 decision in double overtime to Michigan. Tennessee lost to Alabama 63-58 and Wichita was beaten by Tulsa 75-64.

Michigan, 17-2, followed its victory over Indiana with a 100-61 trouncing of Ohio State. UCLA, 20-2, downed Oregon State 73-55 and Oregon 74-64. St. Joseph's, 23-1, whipped Bucknell and Villanova, the latter by only eight points.

Providence, the nation's only unbeaten major college, defeated Rhode Island 88-72 for its 19th triumph. Duke lifted its record to 18-2 by beating South Carolina and Notre Dame while Davidson fell back one place to sixth although it also won two games.

Minnesota, 16-3, whipped two Big Ten opponents, Wisconsin 101-90 and Northwestern 88-77.

Vanderbilt, 18-3 overall, took over the Southeastern Conference lead from Tennessee. New Mexico, the Western Athletic Conference pace-setter, has a 19-3 season mark.

The Top Ten, figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, with first place votes in parentheses, won-lost records through Saturday, Feb. 20 and total points:

1.	Michigan (17) (17-2)	321
2.	UCLA (5) (20-2)	280
3.	St. Joseph's, Pa. (3) (23-1)	238
4.	Providence (8) (19-0)	234
5.	Duke (2) (18-2)	220
6.	Davidson (23-1)	196
7.	Indiana (16-3)	114
8.	Minnesota (16-3)	106
9.	Vanderbilt (18-3)	45
10.	New Mexico (19-3)	34

Boys Missed Curfew; Now It's 1-Man Team

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A curfew violation resulted yesterday in 10 players being dropped from the Portland State College basketball team. The lone survivor was the coach's son and leading scorer.

The school's dean of administration said the players stayed out past the team's 1:30 a.m. curfew last Saturday while in Ashland for games against Southern Oregon College.

Dean Brock Dixon added that no further disciplinary action was planned.

John Nelson, junior forward and son of coach Sharkey Nelson, was not dropped. He has averaged 23.3 points this season in Portland State's 13 conference games.

Three games remain on the Portland State schedule, and coach Nelson said he planned to use his son and players from the jayvee squad.

School officials said yesterday that all of the ousted players, and one student manager who also was dropped, agreed that John Nelson was not involved in the violation.

"I've had to drop players from teams before," coach Nelson said, "but I've never had a case like this that grew to such proportions. The players knew what the training regulations were and admitted violations."

"It's a case of principles over winning."

Portland State started the season slowly, losing its first 10 games. It now has a 6-7 Oregon Collegiate Conference record, and is 6-16 overall.

One Bet Earns $127,552.70

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — One unidentified lucky bettor parlayed four long shots into the fourth highest Twin Double payoff in harness racing history at Yonkers Raceway last night.

The single winning ticket was worth $127,552.70.

Setting up the big haul were victories by Locket Queen, $16, in the sixth race, Guess Again, $34.10, in the seventh and Riegle Byrd, $9.30 in the eighth. Midnight Call, paying $53.70, took the ninth.

The winning combination was 7-7-4-3.

The Twin Double record is $172,726.80 set at Roosevelt Raceway in Westbury, N.Y., last year.

Carter Wins By KO Over Italian Foe

PARIS (UPI)—Rubin (Hurricane) Carter finally caught up with his man, but it required 35 frustrating rounds before he could do it.

That's how long it took the kayo artist from Clifton, N. J., to score his latest knockout—and it was barely enough time at that.

Carter, the world's third-ranking middleweight contender, stiffened Italy's Fabio Bettini at the Palais des Sports last night with only 15 seconds remaining in the 10th round. But it's unlikely the knockout provided full satisfaction after his two previous experiences in the ring.

Carter, a formidable and acknowledged slugger, fought Joey Giardello for the middleweight championship over 15 rounds last December and met Luis Rodriguez just 10 days ago at 10 rounds and, despite carrying the fight to both men, he lost the bouts by unanimous decisions.

In Bettini, however, Carter finally found a stationary target and sent the outclassed Italian to the canvas three times prior to the final knockdown.

Chateaugay Is Retired

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) —Chateaugay, winner of the 1963 Kentucky Derby, is being retired to stud, his owner, John W. Galbreath, announced yesterday.

The son of the great Swaps will stand at Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm here, with limited duty in the stud this season and a full book planned for next year.

Galbreath said he decided on Chateaugay's retirement from racing because of a recurring foot ailment.

Hawks Now 7 For 7 Over The Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It was clear today that the San Francisco Warriors have a long way to go to measure up to the rest of the National Basketball Association.

Last night they entertained the St. Louis Hawks. Despite the home-court advantage and the fact that the Hawks have been foundering since Bob Pettit's injury, St. Louis still grabbed a 107-97 decision.

It was the seventh win for St. Louis over San Francisco in as many tries this season. San Francisco has now lost six straight and 30 of their last 33. The Warriors meet the Hawks in a rematch tomorrow night.

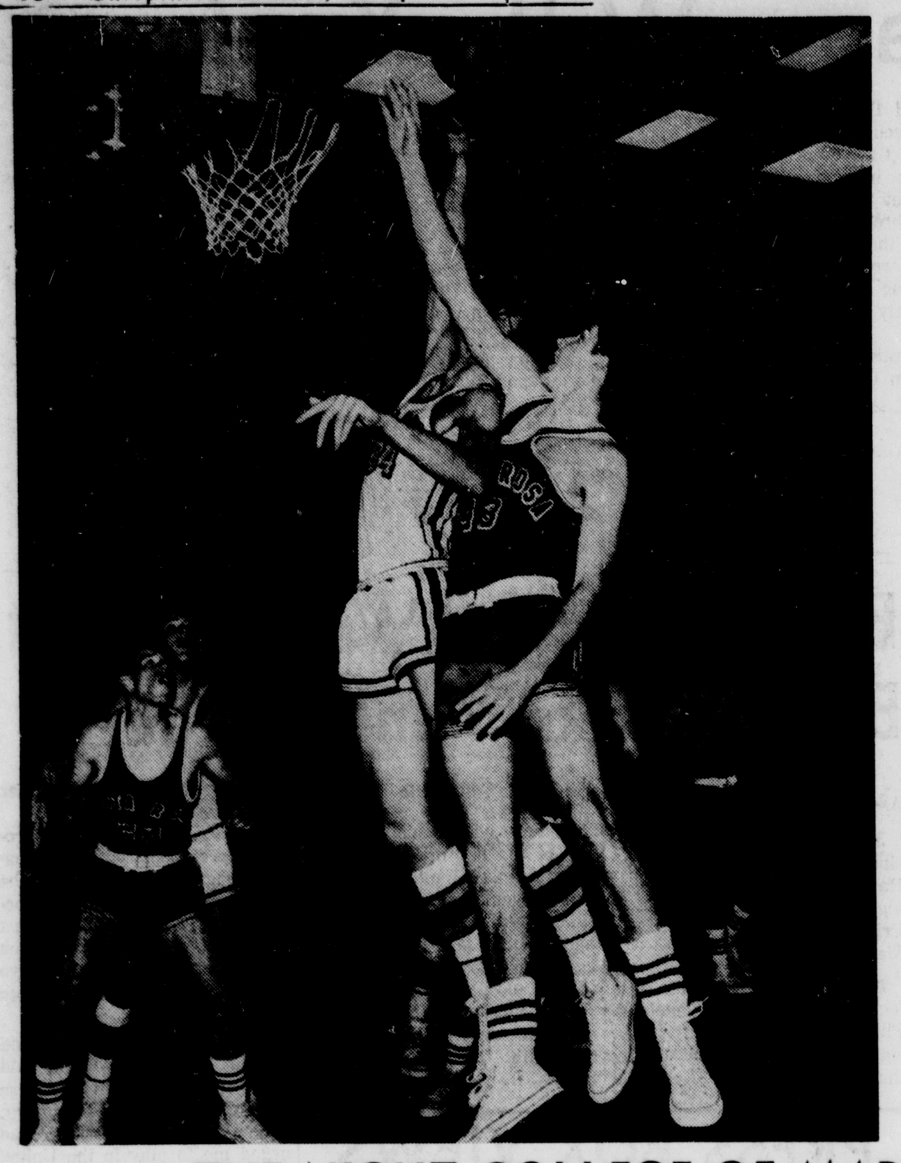

The one bright spot for San Francisco continues to be the work of pivot man Nate Thurmond. Coach Alex Hannum contends that Thurmond right now is one of the league's three top centers and Thurmond has played superbly since taking over for the departed Wilt Chamberlain even though Nate has been slowed down by a painful backache.

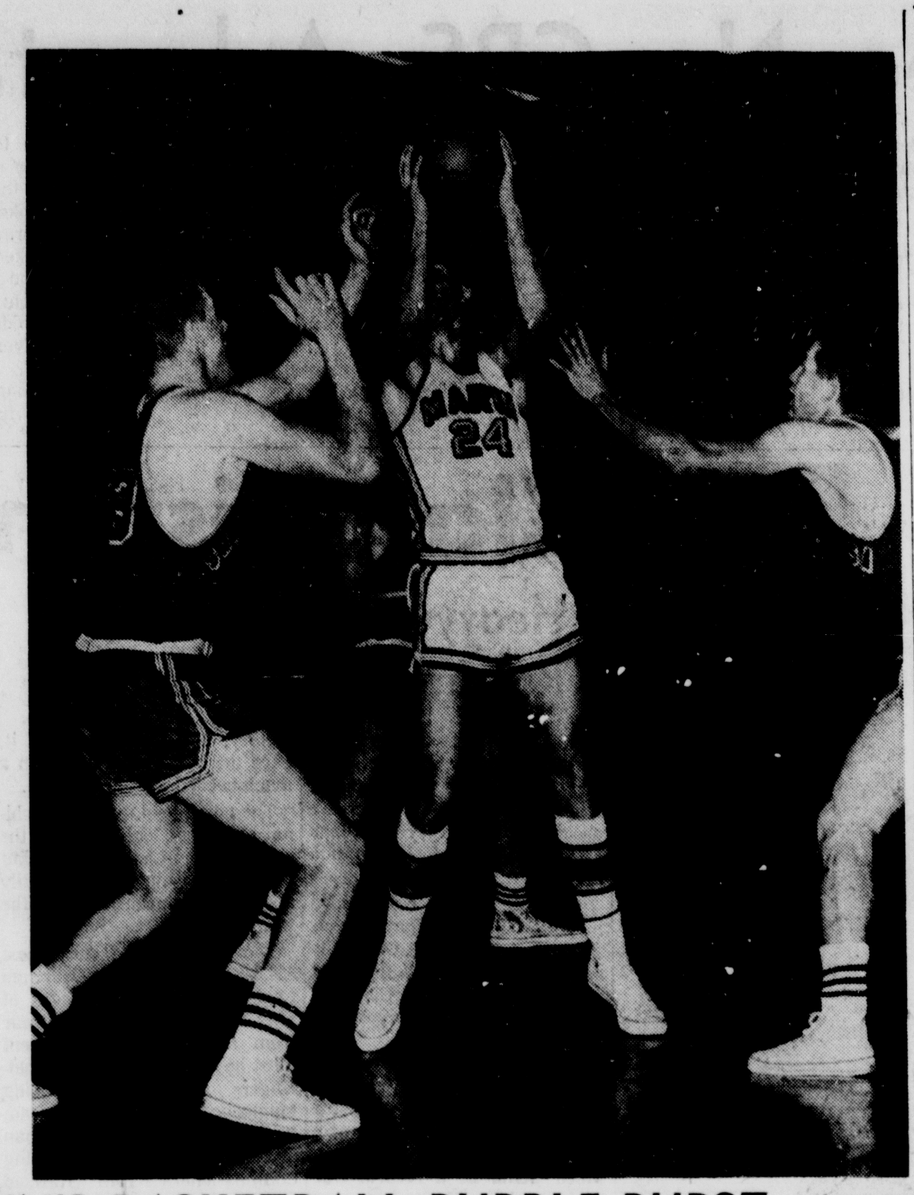

Thurmond tossed in 24 yesterday to again lead all scorers, but the Hawks took the decision with a well-balanced attack that put six men in double figures. Playing coach Richie Geurin led St. Louis with 20 points.

THE NIGHT COLLEGE OF MARIIN'S BASKETBALL BUBBLE BURST

These are action shots taken at Kentfield last Friday night when College of Marin's 18-game victory streak—and hopes for a championship—were shattered by the Santa Rosa Bear Cubs, 95-73. In photo at left Marin's Fred Arnold (34) went high with Santa Rosan Ron McEntire (43) for rebound. No. 23 for Santa Rosa is Terry Bonfigli and directly behind him is Marinite Bill Brody. In photo at right, Marin's Pete Coy (24) jumps for shot over the guarding of Mike Francis. Marin also lost to Sierra on Saturday night to drop the Tars one full game behind Santa Rosa with only three remaining in the championship race. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Guidelines For Golfers, Or, How To Win U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. Golfer, can you drive consistently 250 to 270 yards and keep four out of five drives in a fairway less than 35 yards wide?

Can you knock most of your medium iron shots within 26 feet of the pin? Lag a 75-foot putt within four feet and sink half of the six-footers? Chip nearly as well as you putt?

Do you ignore most advice from your caddie?

If so, you're ready to have a try at winning the U.S. Open.

Jack Reddy, a golf analyst, has made a study of play in the 1963 and 1964 Open championships and has come up with a set of guidelines for the current issue of the USGA Journal.

These, he says, are the features that distinguish the very best golfers from those who are highly skilled but never reach or approach the top in competition:

Driving: AS above—and don't forget that word consistently. Long Irons: Hit a ball over 200 yards and on the average come within 36 feet of the pin or less than six percent of the original distance.

Medium irons: From 150 to 175 yards land within 26 feet of the target, again within six per cent of the original distance.

Long putts: From 75 feet away, putt to within four feet of the hole—proportionately closer on shorter putts. A 40-footer should come within 2.4 feet and a 30-footer within 1.8 feet.

Short putts: Under all conditions and on every variety of green, sink all the 2½-footers, half of all six-footers and one out of 10 from 20 feet.

Chip shots: From 75 feet you should get within five feet on the average; chip nearly as well as you can putt.

Recovery shots: Come within 10 feet of the hole when you are 75 feet out in deep grass and within 12 feet from the same distance in a sand trap.

The matter of advice from caddies is explored by questioning all the 1964 USGA champions. Most say a caddie can be helpful in explaining local conditions but they never ask him to club them or help read the greens. His main job is to carry your clubs and bird-dog your ball.

It might be emphasized that these guidelines concern only the exceptionally skilled golfers. They don't help Joe Duffer, whose drives take a barrel-hoop slice and whose explosion shots either stay in the sand or rocket over the green.

Nor does the Journal suggest what to do about a caddie who never utters a word but just looks disgusted after you take a shot.

But these expert guidelines may explain why, at most golf clubs, there are more rounds bought at the clubhouse bar than are played on the course.

Starts In True Mets Fashion

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Richman started his career with the New York Mets in typical Met fashion.

Richman, former New York sports writer, was appointed yesterday as the Mets promotion director.

Hurrying to Shea Stadium to report for his first day on the new job, Richman slipped on some ice just outside the Stadium and broke an elbow.

NO FACILITIES

Tam Tracksters Orphans For '65

Tamalpais High School's track and field team will be made up of orphans this season. Sort of, that is.

Because of construction work on Tam's athletic facilities, the Indians won't have a track to run on, nor pits for field events. All meets for the Indians will be on the road, so that will pose quite a handicap for the cindermen.

It will be a year from now before the new athletic facilities—including a track, football field and three tennis courts—are completed, according to Tam athletic director George Gustafson. Tam track and field coach Bruce Grant is still looking for a place for the Tam teams to practice.

The Indians will open their season March 9 at Richmond High School. First Marin Athletic League meet will be March 26 at Terra Linda.

Complete track and field schedule for Tam:

Tues., March 9—At Richmond, 3 p.m.
Fri., March 12—Montgomery and Analy in Santa Rosa, 3:45 p.m.
Fri., March 19 — At Lowell (San Francisco), 3:15 p.m.

Some Red-Hot Fishing Reports Come In From Bay Area Spots

STEVENS

It's a grand feeling when it's possible to pass along good news of fishing hither and yon, and today it can be done.

The striper strivers who worked the rather shallow waters (10 to 12 feet) opposite China Camp in the lower San Pablo Bay, had a field day on Saturday. Anglers out of Quan's China Camp and Joe's Launching on the Marin side of the bay made up for lost time.

MORE THAN 100 nice striped bass were unloaded at Joe's Launching on Saturday. "It looks as though we're getting a break at last," said Joe Nerviani . . . "All nice fish. Only one under 7 pounds. The majority were between 10 and 15 pounds with an occasional larger one to 24 pounds. I would say that just about as many fish were taken on sardines as on bullheads."

"I guess Joe was so busy at weighing fish and listening to tall tales of the lunker that got away that he took no names. "I'm sorry, Ralph, but I just didn't have time to list any catches."

Flounder fishing was on a par with bass. Although most fishermen shifted their gear to bass hookups

Considering that the most action was had in fairly shallow water, the light tackle addicts really had a ball.

THE REPORT FROM Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor was also good. The sturgeon are still coming in and stripers seem to be in evidence.

Here's a last minute report from Joe Nerviani—"Two skiffs on Sunday around noon came in with limits for each rod. Seven limits with fish running from 13 to 19 pounds."

Salmon Trolling outside the Gate was hot on one day and only luke-warm the next. The best report for Saturday that came in was of the 15 salmon from 12 to 15 pounds by the Lucky Day, which worked the Farallon Islands area. The Sea Horse setted nine salmon to 15 pounds on Saturday and those two boats reported from Oakland seem to have led the fleet.

Listening to my Halicrafter on Sunday, I learned that fishing on the whole was again fairly good.

FROM THE FRUITVALE Bait Shop I learned that a few bass had been taken on plugs, but the catches made in the Estuary were mainly perch and flounders.

From Joe Wun of the Castro Valley Sportsman's Center came word that "Shorty" Fazzio took a pair of stripers from 13 to 16 pounds near Buoy 6 on the Contra Costa side of the bay. With Fazzio was Dick Marques who accounted for a 13-pound, 7-ounce bass, and a quintet of locals took 11 salmon from 8 to 26 pounds.

All areas — ocean, bay and back country, reported ideal fishing weather over the weekend. The bay was characterized as clear, calm and perfect by several party boats.

SCATTERED REPORTS filtered in from several streams both north and south of the gate, that while steelhead fishing was not especially good it was apparently fair. Only a few more days to catch that steelhead so it behooves you to get out and do your stuff pronto.

A call just came in from Joe Wun giving honorable mention to Bill Byrd for the two black bass caught by him in Whisky Slough Sunday. Ran to 5 pounds, 2 ounces. Bill also got himself a nice crappie in the same area. Ond that's it for the nonce; more anon. Chow!

San Rafael Bowl Team Romps, 25-2

San Rafael's Padres of the Western Professional Bowling League today are in a four-way tie for second place as second half action tightens.

San Rafael bombed the Stockton 300's Sunday 25-2 at Country Club Bowl. It was the worst defeat suffered by any team in the league this season.

After seven weeks of play, the Carmichael Colts are leading the loop with a 4-2 record. Then right on their heels are San Rafael, Fremont, Stockton and South San Francisco, all with 4-3 marks.

Dick Treadway again paced the Pads attack with games of 190-223-255-210 for a whopping 878 series. Phil Wallace had 213-223—436; Ron Lisher had 194-233-168-192-209—996; Walt Silva had 215-205-184-166—770, and Terry Booth had 171-196-200—567.

Berra's Worries: Eyes And Timing

By MILTON RICHMAN

MONTCLAIR, N. J. (UPI) — Yogi Berra figures he'll "know"—one way or another—within the next six weeks.

Making a last-minute spot check around his house before taking off for St. Petersburg, Fla., and his new job as player-coach with the Mets, Berra frankly confessed some doubt as to how much he actually might play this year.

"The only way I'll find out is when I get down there," he said. "I'm gonna take a lot of batting practice and I'm sure gonna try to play as much as I can.

"Don't forget I've laid off a year, though. My eyes and my timing are gonna have a lot to do with it. I'm not worried about my running or my throwing. The big thing is my hitting. That's what I'm gonna have to find out."

Berra, of course, did not play in a single game as manager of the Yankees last year. The year before that it was obvious he was slowing up although he still appeared in 64 games for the Yanks, went to bat 147 times and fashioned a highly respectable .293 average.

Yogi is 39 years old and points out he'll hit 40 in May. Weight was never much of a problem with him and at 195 he's only a few pounds heavier than he was during the days he was the scourge of all American League pitchers.

Yogi knows his limitations. He hopes he can do some catching for his old boss, Casey Stengel. Failing that, he hopes to be able to do some pinch hitting at least. And if he finds he can't even do that much, he is resigned to being a full-time coach for the Mets.

Even if he still can swing the bat, he isn't fooling himself. Berra realizes no one ever has come up with a way to beat the calendar.

"I knew what the pitchers were doing to me the last year I played," he said. "They were keeping the ball away from me more. I can't pull the ball the way I used to."

Berra did not permit his switch from the Yankees to the Mets to interfere with long established friendships this past winter. He continued talking with a number of Yankee players who live in this general area, including Whitey Ford and Elston Howard.

"Why not?" he inquired. "They didn't fire me. I wish them and all the rest of the Yankees the best of luck."

Yogi has their good wishes, too, even though he decided to pick up his gear and go crosstown.

Merger Means Break For School Children

The merger of two school districts seldom means much to the children in class.

In one Novato neighborhood, however, it has meant that 16 youngsters could stop riding the bus to a school a mile away and start walking to classes across the street.

The pupils are residents of apartments at the north end of Leafwood Drive. Just across the street sits Lynwood School, but until this year, they could not attend it, because they live in the Novato School District and Lynwood is in the San Jose School District.

Instead, the youngsters got on a bus every day and rode to the Novato district's Rancho School.

In November, citizens voted to merge the two districts. The unification, which would end the need for the 16 pupils' bus ride, becomes effective July 1. Meanwhile, trustees took note of the fact that Rancho School is overcrowded, and agreed there was no need to wait.

Until school ends in June, therefore, the arrangement is covered by inter-district agreements. Next fall these will no longer be needed.

In addition to its advantages to the youngsters, the change is saving the Novato district money, according to assistant superintendent Paul Mobley. The school bus previously had to go two miles out of its way twice daily to take the 16 pupils to Rancho School. It costs 49 cents a mile to run the bus, he explains.

Los Ranchitos Road Annex Plan On List

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will meet at 8:15 a.m. Thursday at the Civic Center with only one hearing on its agenda.

The commission will consider annexation of a 1.5 acre parcel along Los Ranchitos Road to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

18 Students On Dean's List

Eighteen students from Marin County were among those named to the dean's list for the fall quarter at California State Polytechnic College's campus, San Luis Obispo, for achieving a "B" average or better.

They are: Marilyn Heller, Michael T. Hogan, William Hurley, Paul Ermon Miller and Philip R. Pierre of Mill Valley;

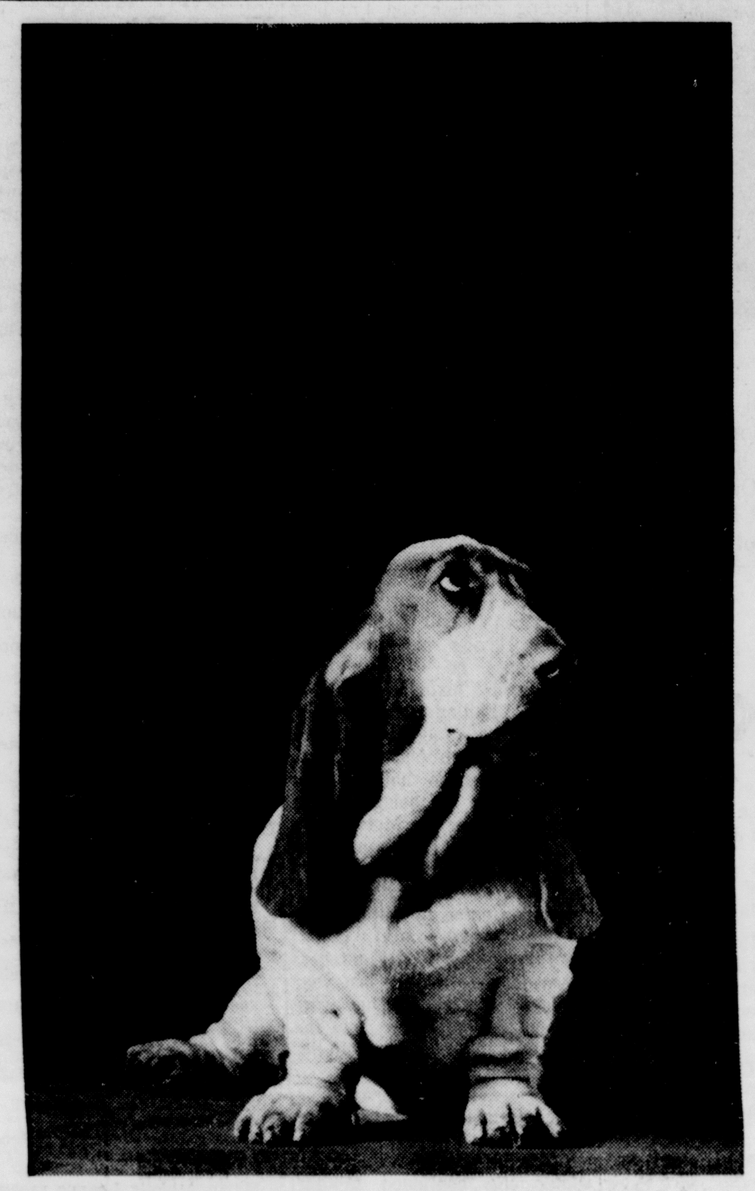

Dennis Anderson, Philip W. Curd and Marjorie A. Miller of Corte Madera; Geoffrey T. Capell and Michael A. Eisan of Belvedere; Paul E. DeMartini and James E. Sannar of San Anselmo;

Gary D. Bentson of Greenbrae, George Cole of Hamilton Air Force Base, Gary P. Malvino of Larkspur, Paul A. Maysonane of San Rafael, Thomas Miller of Novato and Frederic M. Murray of Tiburon.

Civilians Rewarded For Army Proposals

Three Marin County residents have received a total of $50 from the Army for suggestions designed to save the Corps of Engineers $542 annually. Another county resident received a citation and pay raise for outstanding work.

Cash awards of $20 were given Nicholas J. Hainovsky, 21 Homestead Boulevard, Mill Valley; $15 to Pauline McNabb, 20 Tradewind Passage, Corte Madera, and $15 to Lester A. Tinkham, 228 Humboldt Street, San Rafael. Flora D. McLeod, 266 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, was given a salary increase.

Tidying-Up Project Puts Teens On Toes

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A woman leader in the cosmetics field decries the "general untidiness" of today's teen-aged girls.

NOT CONTENT with just being critical, however, she is spearheading a national project to put today's teens on their toes in matters of makeup, manners, and grooming.

"The way I feel about it," said Marion McDonald, "teenagers must realize they're going to have that face around for a long time. They must think, 'what'll I look like at 40?' "

That "general untidiness" frets her, she said. So do bad manners—"there doesn't seem to be much respect for older people," said Mrs. McDonald, who has a married daughter, 24, and a stepson, 19.

SHE PUTS PART of the blame on parents who have "shirked responsibility and put it all on the school." "To me," she said, "it is not the teachers who should be responsible for how children dress, act, how they come to school."

Some mothers set "deplorable examples" for their daughters, Mrs. McDonald contended, by going to such as the supermarket in curlers.

ADDED TO this, she said, is the fact that today's teener is more independent of authority than ever before because he or she is affluent as generations before never have been.

Improvement Club To Hear 'Teller Of Tales In Song'

"Folk Songs from Many Lands" will be the theme of the San Rafael Improvement Club meeting on March 2 at which time Frances Knight, accompanied by Gale King will be presented.

Miss Knight, professionally known as a "Teller of Tales in Song" prepared for her career as a dramatic interpreter of songs by study at the University of California and the California School of Fine Arts. This was followed by private tutoring in music and dramatics and operatic stage experience with the Chamber Opera Company of San Francisco.

As a concert artist she has given performances from coast to coast, and has established herself as a leading protagonist of the folk song as an art form.

The 2 p.m. program will be preceeded by a business meeting at which the election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Mrs. Douglas Godfrey, tea chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Herbert Pratt, Alfred Thomson, and William Held. Pouring will be Mesdames Eldred Hillis, S. W. Kramar, Norman Reinhard, Louis Yuvan.

WAY OUT SHAPE

Dizzy Decolletages Disappear In Italian Spring Collections

By LOUISE HICKMAN

ROME (AP)—Crispy tailored suits and bead-and-jewel embroideries for evening were practically missing from the Italian spring and summer collections. Dizzy decolletages disappeared completely.

But a new Roman fashion house, Barocco, introduced a way-out shape that looked quite in—long, long tops and jackets over quite short skirts. Long jackets and tops clung close just under the bosom, flared from there to rest lightly on soft skirts, not full, not slim.

The skirts were really deep, unfluffy flounces set on low hip yokes. Pants for day or night were simply flounces times two, from hip to knee or ankle. The total effect was of a long, soft slender pyramid.

The basic hat shape — wide brimmed, dome crowned and worn straight on — was shown with everything, including cocktail outfits.

The Barocco look seemed to click with those who like to break step and march to a different drummer.

While the fashions were shown last night, pictures were held up until today. This delay in publication, imposed by the couture houses, is designed to foil copying of designs before buyers start selling the originals or authorized copies.

Barocco is a partnership between Gilles and Rocco. Swiss-born Gilles started out as a millinery designer, first with Gilbert Orcel in Paris, then with Patrick de Barentzen in Rome. Rocco is fairly fresh off the Italian Isle of Ischia where he designed for beach boutiques.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES ALLAN McCLURE

Marie Grbac Weds James A. McClure

St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon was the setting for the wedding of Marie Elizabeth Grbac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mate Grbac of Tiburon, and James Allen McClure of Mill Valley at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Rev. John T. Gallagher performed the double ring ceremony in which the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Marie wore a full length gown of white slipper satin trimmed in French lace appliques.

Mrs. Raymond Chambers of Tiburon was her sister's matron of honor and Mary Bradley of Piedmont, cousin of the bride, attended. Both wore street length dresses of blue chiffon.

Ronald McClure of Tiburon served as best man for his brother and Clifford and Patrick McClure, both of Mill Valley, ushered for their brother.

The bride, who is the sister of John Grbac of Tiburon, was graduated from Redwood High School.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McClure of Mill Valley and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shull and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer, both of Mill Valley.

He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is presently employed with Duracite Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael.

Following a wedding trip to Northern California, the couple will reside in Mill Valley.

Widening Of Sleeves

Look for a widening of sleeves in some spring ready-to-wear. Incoming is the batwing sleeve or the less exaggerated dolman. John Moore, who designed the Inaugural Ball gown for Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, was one of the New York designers showing a lot of the dolman. The deeper armholes all add up to a softer look in spring clothes.

Parents Reason Kiddies Dislike Going To Dentist?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Parents are the big reason why most children dislike going to the dentist.

THAT IS the firm belief of Dr. Bernard Rabinowitch, who told a panel of dentists "the biggest hazard of being a child's dentist is parents."

"When a parent walks into your office and tells the child, 'he won't hurt you'—brother, you're half dead."

DR. RABINOWITCH, who has a practice in Beverly Hills, Calif. said that children will learn to trust their dentists and can develop an early comfortable relationship with him if parents will just keep their opinions to themselves.

"THEY SHOULD learn to trust the dentist as a friend and will look forward to their visits to his office and its painless equipment," Dr. Rabinowitch explained. "They should be started early, preferably under five years of age."

He said that 90 per cent of the nation's children under five years of age have never visited a dentist, and only 50 per cent of those under 15 know what a dentist's office looks like.

Gold Jewelry

Gold jewelry is enjoying its greatest wave of popularity. So reports the Jewelry Industry Council which points to one indication of the gold rush. President Johnson selected a gold brooch for his wife's birthday, gold pins as Christmas gifts for his daughters, and gold tie clasps for White House newsmen. Among the new designs in the jewelry field are pins, bracelets and earrings set with pearls, rubies, sapphires, emeralds and diamonds.

Why Do Your Menus Change?

If restaurant menus look different, it's because people have changed their eating habits, says Jan Mitchell whose 10 New York City restaurants serve 10,000 people a day.

Some people have become cholesterol and calorie conscious eating less butter, gravy and heavy desserts.

Other people have become more sophisticated with the expanding culture of the United States. Travel has educated their taste buds.

Part of Mitchell's 17-hour workday is spent observing the changing tastes of his varied clientele, and figuring what makes his restaurants bought five years ago tick.

"YEARS AGO you couldn't have put coq au vin (chicken in wine) on the menu. It would have been risky. But now in areas where broiled chicken was a best seller coq au vin has taken over," he says.

Diners are more discriminating, but tastes of people are regional, even in a city.

In the theatrical district, they want anything that may be prepared and eaten quickly; ditto for the financial area, Wall Street. The uptown residential crowd who have more time to dine demand something that's a gustatorial delight. But practically all restaurants report a "please no gravy routine."

Sometimes gravy is requested "on the side," Mitchell says, and the good intentions are likely to dissolve as the meal progresses. But much less of it is served, in any event.

"Travelers have become so spice conscious,(I even add a pinch of oregano to steak," he points out. "Americans are great beef eaters, and sometimes they choose high-caloried sauces to go with it because in Europe it didn't make them fat. But there they could walk it off on their tours," he says.

For them, Mitchell prepares Bordelaise sauce with spices, and beef stroganoff. His dash of rosemary enhances the flavor of sour cream, he says.

The easiest-to-feed group in his restaurant chain is the Madison Avenue set, where the emphasis is on drinking lunch.

"Just give the advertising crowd an item for $1.65 and they're happy," he says. "We have the highest sale of liquor and the lowest sales of food there. What they'd really like after four drinks at lunch is a $1.50 sandwich."

People are drinking more at all his restaurants, he comments. More mixed drinks, wine and cordials are being served. He thinks cordials are taken in place of desserts.

Mitchell spotchecks his restaurants, breezing through several every day tasting everything from mashed potatoes to fruit compote.

"FISH, PARTICULARLY swordfish and lobster, has become very popular, probably because of the low calories.

Faith Church Sets Luncheon, Concert

A luncheon and concert at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, March 2, will feature talented Terra Linda pianist, Ann Nilsson Kluksdahl. Mrs. Kluksdahl, well known in the Seattle area, is a comparative newcomer to the Marin music scene.

A winner of several scholarships, among which were Music for Youth, and Music and Art Foundation, Mrs. Kluksdahl attended Cornish School of Allied Arts where she studied under Stephen Balogh, and the University of Washington, where she studied under Berthe Poncy Jacobson, and received the bachelor of arts degree and master of arts in performance.

Further laurels include first place in the Concerto Division of the Seattle Music Teachers' Assn., and in a statewide competition sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Mrs. Kluksdahl gives piano lessons to a limited number of students in her home at 11 Hunt Road where she lives with her husband Harris and their two small sons.

The luncheon at Dominic's is sponsored by the women of Faith Lutheran Church, Los Ranchitos Road and Northgate Drive. The public is invited to the concert and luncheon which begins at noon. Mesdames George Aaker, James McElroy, and James Schu are co-chairmen.

Bringing Up Baby

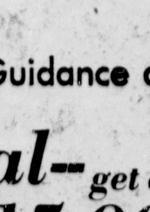

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A friend of mine has three delightful, small children who are the most amazing eaters imaginable. They eat everything! Without fuss . . . and have since they were wee ones. Seems the mother's secret is this: the children's dad is a wonderful salesman. He led the little ones into good eating habits by using the positive approach . . . making eating fun. Everything was luscious, delicious, great, marvelous. He tasted everything they ate and literally lip-smacked them into enjoying their food.

•

Food formula from Dan Gerber. "Gerber specialists are perfectionists when it comes to babies. Take Gerber High Meat Dinners. In the development stage, nutrition research was conducted with great care. Then recipe variations by the score were evaluated. And 4,500 babies picked their favorite formulation from two final recipes submitted for taste-testing. The rewarding results? Flavorful products of unusual nutritional values. Yes, when you buy Gerber, you're sure of your money's worth in nourishment."

•

Profitable sharing plan. Luncheon shared has a way of brightening an appetite. If your toddler's a self-feeder, why not fix a snack for yourself and sit down to enjoy it with him (or her) occasionally? You might even snitch a dab or two of his food and let him see how much you enjoy it. P.S. The High Meat Dinners, Fruits and Desserts are great for this.

•

Toddlers, tykes and tiny ones, all need vitamin C daily...for sound gums and other body tissues. There's a wealth of vitamin C in every can of Gerber Fruit Juice. (One can of any variety will give your baby over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for infants and small children.) As for sipping pleasure, Gerber Juices are filled to the brim with true-fruit flavors. Nine happy choices . . . all calculated to summon up a smile. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Marin Needs To Join Now In Eel River Water Plan

The Eel River Assn., now an informal group embracing nine North Coast counties, plans to hire a full time secretary-manager and set up permanent headquarters.

It's going to cost each member county some $5,000 annually to set up an office and send a full time representative to fight for North Coast water interests in Sacramento and in Washington.

On first thought, you wonder why Marin County enters the picture at all. In fact, some of the Marin supervisors are privately expressing doubts that they can justify spending that kind of money when Marin gets no immediate and direct benefit.

But there is a broader view they should consider.

Even now, the North Marin Water District is receiving water via pipeline from the Russian River, which in turn is fed partially from the Eel.

Both William Seeger of Marin Municipal Water District and Jerome Gilbert of North Marin Water District foresee that by the turn of the century (that's only 35 years from now), Marin will have to turn to the Eel River for water supply.

Development of dams on the Eel River is already in the works. The principal aim of the state-authorized Middle Fork Project on the Eel is to pipe water to Southern California.

North Coast counties need an effective voice now while the Eel water projects are in the planning stage and before the project is frozen, to the benefit of other areas like Southern California and to our exclusion.

This is where a full-time secretary-manager of the Eel River Assn., call him a lobbyist if you will, enters the picture.

How could this man, getting a salary of $15,000 per year or more, lobby for Marin's interests?

Take the Middle Fork Project on the Eel. The state has authorized the project, and the next step is to get appropriations.

The Eel River secretary-manager, with the North Coast counties united behind him, could urge that the appropriations be stepped up. He could keep in constant touch with the state Legislature and with Congress, and with planners working on the location of dams and pipelines to make sure that the primary aim of the project will be to assure water to the north coast counties at least possible cost.

The Eel River "watchdog" could also fight for recreation and fishing areas to be developed along with the dams so that Northern California will get the maximum benefit in water supply and in recreation.

In statewide projects such as water development, Marin or Sonoma County cannot "go it alone."

If the Eel is to be the ultimate source of water for Marin, the most effective way to protect that interest is to step in during the planning stage—now—with an effective voice. At the moment, providing the Eel River Assn. with a paid staff appears to be the best way to give the North Coast counties that effective voice.

We hope that the supervisors of the North Coast counties, including Marin, will look to our long-range interest when the Eel River Assn. asks them to join in the joint-powers agreement.

STOPGAP IDEA

Senate Leader Hopes To Meet Court Reapportionment Ruling

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), president pro tem of the State Senate, said he believed the Legislature should be content this year with amending the State Constitution to permit election of Senate members on the basis of population, but without drawing any actual district lines.

BURNS SAID he felt it would be impossible for the Senate to agree on a redistricting plan which, on the basis of population, would shift some 16 Senate districts from Northern California to the southern counties.

A Los Angeles federal court has ordered the state to reapportion the Senate by July 1. Burns said an amendment to the state's Constitution would have to be approved by the people in November, 1966.

"We could submit this amendment to the court to show we have followed their orders and see if the court would accept it," Burns said. "I would like to see the problem presented to the people."

Burns was asked if he would risk the possibility the court might not accept anything less than full reapportionment and would proceed to do the work itself.

"I PERSONALLY would just as soon take the chance," Burns said. "I won't go for any of the present ideas on where lines should be."

Meanwhile, the Assembly finally gave approval, 57-10, to a resolution asking Congress to amend the federal Constitution to permit one house of a state legislature to be apportioned on a basis other than population.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D - Inglewood), who presented SJR3-Burns to the Assembly, said he always had supported a "middle ground approach" to Senate reapportionment but doubted if the court would accept it.

Unruh said, at present, it was impossible for one senator to represent the nearly seven million persons in Los Angeles County. However, under a strict adherence to the "one man, one vote" Supreme Court edict, Unruh said it would be equally impossible for one senator to represent a district which included one-third of all the counties in the state.

The 10 assemblymen voting against the resolution generally are considered in the more liberal wing of the party.

ALL DEMOCRATS, they were Assemblymen Alfred E. Alquist, San Jose; Anthony C. Beilenson, Beverly Hills; John L. Burton and Willie L. Brown Jr., both of San Francisco; Mervyn M. Dymally, Edward E. Elliott and F. Douglas Ferrell, all Los Angeles; Nicholas C. Petris, Oakland; William F. Stanton, San Jose, and George A. Willson, Huntington Park.

The 49-member Democratic caucus in the State Assembly has formed a campaign committee, dedicated to the theory that there is no such thing as a "safe Republican" district.

Assemblyman George E. Danielson (D - Los Angeles) said the campaign committee will work to see that Democrats retain their present 49-31 majority in the Assembly "and pick up enough new seats in 1966 to provide even more effective leadership."

FORMATION OF the group, which normally holds meetings at least once a week anyway, was taken as the Democrats answer to the so-called "five-year plan" of Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. Democrats have been concerned, if not alarmed, at the fact the Republicans gained three seats in the general election last November, despite President Lyndon B. Johnson's carrying the state by landslide proportions.

The Republican strategy has been to concentrate strengh and money in the assembly districts where there was a chance to win.

Danielson said Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (D-South San Francisco) would be chairman of the campaign committee.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Average Citizen Doesn't Care

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A subject of debate and much speculation during World War II was the thinking of the average citizen of the three axis powers when their leaders rained bombs on the heads of "enemy" towns and cities.

After the events of the past few days, I have the answer—they couldn't care less.

Columnist Praised For Giving Insight

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to extend my appreciation to you for making available to your readers the column "Inside Washington," by Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott....

From the above, and much other supplemental reading that I have been doing, it becomes apparent that the foreign policy of the United States State Department and the Executive branch of the government is approximately as follows:

1. To stall, appease, and coexist with the communist enemy in various trouble spots around the world at the enemy's choosing and leading to the eventual take-over of these countries by the enemy....

2. At the same time this coexistence policy (fear of nuclear war and peace at any price) conditions the American people psychologically to continue to shell out the dollars to pay for this no-win policy and re-distributes the wealth of the United States among the rest of the nations of the world. It may be that the defeatist attitude in the State Department is that "we are going to lose anyway; but this way we will just lose more slowly."

All the while we are gradually turning over our military establishment . . . to the United Nations with the communist bloc in control thereof. As a result of this total policy, we will have lost the will to resist both physically and psychologically. Resist what? The communist take-over at home, of course....

To those of us that care, it is not yet too late to start that avalanche of letters to our Congressman urging them to take appropriate action to restore sanity to the Executive branch of our government.

Good Shepherd Guardeth Sheep

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have been reading with interest the case of the Point Reyes rancher who shot and killed two eagles on his ranch, who were destroying his flock. . . .

I should like to say that I was reared in the British Islands. My father was a sheep rancher. There we had ravens, great big ones. I myself have seen them swoop down and carry off a baby lamb. They also watch a ewe in labour and pull out her eyes. I as a child have nursed many a little lamb whose mother has had to be destroyed because of this enemy. Any enemy who attacks us or our naturally is going to be destroyed.

In due respect to our eagle being our emblem, we must not lose sight of the fact that in this case he was the enemy. We have Bible promise that the Good Shepherd guardeth his sheep. The Lord is our Shepherd—the shepherd is the sheep's shepherd. I feel deeply for the rancher who only did his duty, perhaps not realizing his predicament.

Let us all try to judge with righteous judgment.

Viet Nam Raids Are Foolish

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The new "policy" of attacking North Viet Nam in retaliation for Viet Cong raids is the most foolhardy and illogical our government could devise. This "quick-draw" type of response, so common in our foreign relations, throws into doubt America's maturity and ability in international affairs. Constant reliance upon military action seems to have made us, as a nation, incompetent when the situation cries out for diplomacy.

It is time for the American government to listen to constructive ideas about a solution in Viet Nam, many of which are coming from President de Gaulle, who advocates negotiation and neutralization. It is time, as Walter Lippman says, for a "diplomatic offensive."

Pledge Of Allegiance Changes Discussed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Armed with the January, 1965, "Esquire" magazine, I am ready to respond to Mr. R. H. Miehling's letter in your Feb. 10 column, in which he states:

". . . From its very beginning the Pledge of Allegiance has endeavored to develop a dynamic conviction of Americanism in order that the people of this great nation shall never lose sight of their precious heritage and future citizens shall be well instructed in their civic responsibilities; to maintain a level necessary to champion the cause of peace and freedom against the challenge of would-be aggressors . . ." Etc. He reads more into the Pledge than I do.

It turns out the the Pledge of Allegiance was composed in 1890 as a promotion stunt for "Youth's Companion." In 1923 the words "my flag" were changed to "the flag of the United States" to foil immigrants who might be thinking of their old flag. The next year "of America" was added, to pin down absolutely the geographical location. Thirty years later the words "under God" were added, thus alienating the atheists as well as some other potentially patriotic people who don't feel like worshipping their God and their State simultaneously.

ONE OF THE treats New York has to offer visitors is the round - Manhattan sightseeing boats. Besides affording wonderful sights of the city, the well-informed guides have quite a comedy routine. One sure-fire line is "Folks, if you want to make this trip expensive, just throw something over the side. There's a $500 fine." Another quip that evokes a nervous laugh is, "I don't want to disturb anybody, but the Captain just sent word he's altered our course. We're now heading for Havana, Cuba!" Way up in the Bronx, the boats pass a junk yard littered with wrecked automobiles. "On our right," sing out the guides, "we're passing a ladies' driving school." The male passengers like that one best!

THE NIKKO Botanical Garden in Japan, aware that it is a favorite attraction for American tourists, has obligingly posted this sign at the entrance gate: "Nikko Botanical Garden. Open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission by ticket only. No botanizing, drinking, uproaring, and etc. in the garden."

CAMPUS HUMOR from Wisconsin:

HISTORY PROF: Who was Anne Boleyn?

FROSH: A flatiron, sir.

PROF: Where did you pick up an idiotic notion like that?

FROSH: It says so right here in my textbook: "After Henry VIII had disposed of Catherine, he pressed his suit with Anne Boleyn."

U.S. Has Risked Much, Won In Communist Showdowns

WASHINGTON — Was President Lyndon B. Johnson giving the nation a meaningless pep talk or was he drawing on his deep instinct of what the American people really believe and will do in the showdown, when he made this statement in a Lincoln Day address almost as brief as the one at Gettysburg:

"NO OTHER PEOPLE in no other time has had so great an opportunity to work and risk for the peace and the freedom of all mankind.

"It is not a burden, it is a privilege to be able to give so much for what we really believe in."

While some Democratic senators are wringing their hands over the news from Viet Nam, Mr. Johnson appears to be calling for fearlessness and fortitude on the ground that the risk is worth it.

Because there are grave uncertainties — as there were grave uncertainties when Winston Churchill took over the losing battle against the Nazis—it is not an easy choice. But I suspect the American people will choose the leadership of the president, if he gives it boldly, not the scuttle-and-run counsel of the timid.

IS A DECISION to win the war in Viet Nam worth the risk and the sacrifice? That is the question—and a fair question. I think the answer will become clearer if we look at how far we have come and how much we have risked and won since the Communists began their effort to pick up every undefended piece of real estate.

Here is the record:

President Harry S. Truman faced Stalin down in Iran and forced him to withdraw Soviet troops.

The U. S. saved Greece from being dragged behind the Iron Curtain.

The Marshall Plan rescued the entire continent of Western Europe from the overhanging threat of communism.

The U. S.-British airlift prevented West Berlin from the Soviet effort to starve its two-and-a-half million people into submission.

THE UNITED STATES defeated the armed Communist aggression in Korea.

President John F. Kennedy struck from the hands of Nikita Khrushchev the instrument of nuclear blackmail in Cuba.

I am not suggesting that all is well in this turbulent world. It isn't. But everything has not gone wrong by any means. We tend to forget how much has gone right. This is a tremendous record of risking and winning. It has a direct bearing on the stake we have in preventing the Communists from unhinging the Vietnamese gate to all Southeast Asia.

What does it mean?

It means that the free world has defeated every form of Communist aggression — military, economic, political, and nuclear — except one.

IT MEANS that in Viet Nam the United States may well be dealing with the last means of aggression which the Communists have open to them. I refer to aggression by guerrilla warfare and subversion across an open frontier.

In Viet Nam the free world may well be confronting the ultimate test and last instrument of Communist aggression. Some will say that it comes in a bad place for us and under the most adverse circumstances. The Communists do not choose to attack where it is easy to defend.

Some will say that it is better to let South Viet Nam go to the Communists and wait for a better time and a better place to make the stand. Churchill said: "One cannot expect security by throwing small nations to the wolves."

Will there ever be a better place? Next time—and there will be a next time—the Communist aggressor will be stronger and the circumstances more adverse.

THIS IS WHY President Johnson is not talking about giving up.

McNamara Rapped For Viet Sneak Raids

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is facing shap congressional grilling on two increasingly controversial questions:

1. His contention that U. S. bases, barracks and other installations in South Viet Nam cannot be effectively protected from Communist attacks.

2. The value and still-to-be-fully-revealed results of "controlled" retaliatory air strikes at North Viet Nam targets.

BOTH POLICIES are under mounting criticism, particularly in military quarters. Members of the powerful House Armed Services Committee have received numerous letters caustically challenging McNamara's views and pronouncements.

As a consequence, Rep. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.) chairman, has summoned McNamara for comprehensive questioning on South Viet Nam operations.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff also will be interrogated. They will be heard after McNamara testifies. The military leaders reportedly are at variance with him on these and other South Viet Nam issues, and will be asked about that.

Representative Rivers also is deliberating sending a special subcommittee to South Viet Nam for a first-hand study of security and "controlled" air strikes.

Decision on this awaits the outcome of the forthcoming hearings. However, considerable sentiment already exists among committeemen for an on-the-spot survey in addition to ascertaining the positions of McNamara and the Joint Chiefs.

One important reason for this is his soft-pedaled announcement that 500 combat troops are being sent to South Viet Nam expressly for guard purposes.

This is a slight reversal from his previous stand. The Joint Chiefs have repeatedly urged that a Marine division be assigned this function. McNamara is still turning a deaf ear to that.

From authoritative military sources, leaders of the House Armed Services Committee have been told that the world-headlined retaliatory air strikes at North Viet Nam targets caused little damage and few casualties.

Total enemy casualties of the three raids are estimated at not more than a dozen, plus some trucks and vacant barracks damaged or destroyed. The first attack, on Dong Hoi, hit a group of mud huts which hadn't been occupied for some time, assertedly according to unpublished photo reconnaissance reports. The charge also is being made that the North Viet Nam targets of these air strikes were selected for "political" rather than military reasons.

Illustrative of significant backstage criticism of McNamara was a blistering letter from Lt. Gen. Edward Almond (ret.), a corps commander in the Korean fighting, who in 1951 suppressed a widespread outbreak of Communist guerrilla attacks in South Korea.

General Almond wrote, "I . . . cannot in good conscience sit idly by while I witness such a performance of evasion of truth and fact as I observed in a TV report by Secretary of Defense McNamara. . . .

"McNamara's press conference, through its entirety, smacked of a political smoke-screen for the progressively worsening situation."

Let's Talk Turkey About National Bird—The Eagle Is Too Mean

Will the Point Reyes eagle affair revive one of the oldest controversies in the United States?

Rancher Le Roy Martinelli of Point Reyes brought national focus on eagles when he shot two of them which were killing his lambs. This has started another controversy among ranchers and bird lovers.

THERE ARE THOSE who say that a man has a right to protect his property, in this case defenseless lambs, against all attackers.

The other side says that the eagle is a bold, glorious bird which is a sight to behold when he goes soaring through the skies. As our national emblem, he has a right to be protected.

So far that side has won in the law, because some eagles, regardless of habits, are protected by federal and state laws.

But the eagle is not only an American bird. It is the national bird of nations all over the world. In fact, the eagle was thus honored in ancient Rome and other such countries.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN wanted the turkey for national emblem. He had some points in his favor. The turkey is one of the largest and most noble of New World birds. It is able to fend for itself, either in the wilderness or domesticated in a pen, not as a predator. Basically it is a peace-loving bird, only taking to flight when alarmed. And it is delicious, not only at Thanksgiving, but barbecued any time of the year.

The eagle, on the other hand, is a mean bird. It is beautiful when soaring aloft, but on these flights it is looking for some smaller animal to kill. If it cannot find wild game, it will attack domesticated animals, as rancher Martinelli can attest, or even humans. European stories tell of eagles killing babies and small children. The news a week ago tells of an eagle nearly killing one hunter and maiming another in Southeast Europe.

Maybe we should revive Ben Franklin's old arguments and take a long look at our national bird. Maybe the turkey is more American than the eagle.

ALONG THE ANIMAL line, two incidents of animal poisoning were reported in Novato in the past week. A veterinarian confirmed that a dog whose home was along Railroad Avenue, had been fed strychnine. A cat in a nearby neighborhood was also poisoned.

We have an unprintable opinion of anyone who would put out poison to kill animals. That person might have a justifiable grudge against one or more dogs which run at large. But that person should complain to the dogs' owners and the Marin County Humane Society rather than put out a poison which can kill all animals that eat it.

Such a person should resign from the human race.

CREATING A BIG traffic hazard along Grant Avenue in Novato are the trucks which angle park while unloading.

This is perfectly legal as far as the arrangement of the parking spaces and the way they park. However, some delivery trucks are so long that they block half the street. A car must go on the opposite side of the street and face oncoming traffic to get around it. This is especially dangerous at Highway 101 and Grant Avenue, where traffic moves faster than other parts of the city.

We suggest that the city take at least two or three parking spaces at the end of the block and make that a loading zone where trucks park parallel to the curb. This would keep the long trucks from blocking traffic.

Coal Miner Rock Hudson Keeps Coming Up With Movie Gold

NEW YORK (AP) — Rock Hudson sees a similarity between making movies and laboring in a mine.

"I LIKE not working," said the big film star.

Next week he starts his 50th picture since 1948.

"I dread it — having to go down into the mines for 10 weeks," he remarked.

"A sound stage is really quite a bit like a mine. It's dark and it has no windows. I never see daylight — and turn the nicest greenish-white."

But Hudson doesn't dig coal in his mine. He brings up pure gold.

A big, shy, near-sighted kid from Winnetka, Ill., he sang in a high school glee club and church choir before going to Hollywood. He served in the Navy. He worked as a truck driver, piano mover, and mail carrier.

HIS FIRST screen test in 1947 was so poor that one studio for a time showed it to other beginners as an example of poor acting.

But his rhinestone youth has long since turned into a diamond brilliance.

He touches the industry where its heart is — the boxoffice cashbox. Now, feeling a bit camera weary, he'd like to try Broadway.

"I'm looking for a good musical role," he said. "I've been taking singing lessons for a year."

At 39, this 200-pound, 6-foot-4 inch actor probably is the man most U.S. women would rather be cast up on a desert isle with.

WHAT KIND of a person is he?

"Well," he said, enjoying the question, "I like coffee, nice people, old clothes, old cars, new cars, leftover foods, skin diving, sailing skiing, water skiing, hockey, wood paneling, hand-rubbed wooden antiques, old silver, paintings, sculpture, the feel of marble, candlelight, Technicolor films, harmony in song, heat waves, electric fans, desserts, mashed potatoes and gravy, scotch.

"AND I LIKE clean sheets, good service, noonlight, fireplaces, traveling, yodeling, reading fantasy tales, biographies, reference books, do-it-yourself books, making tape recordings of good music, playing the piano — but just for myself — remodelling houses, opera, limericks, the month of July, excitement in my life, kitchens, and Julie Andrews."

Marin County shoe stores thought everybody had turned centipede as buyers on the run staged a run on their goods. Turned out that a rumor afoot that shoe ration stamps might be cancelled was without foundation.

Vito B. Allioto, Monterey cannery owner, applied for a county use permit to operate a modern sardine and tuna cannery plant at Waldo Point north of Sausalito city limits.

'MISS MARIN' CONTEST LIMELIGHT WARMS UP

Entrants for the "Miss Marin" beauty pageant are being sought by the Marin Visitors Bureau, it was announced today by Esther Dearth, chairman for the "May in Marin" beauty pageant committee.

Mrs. Dearth pointed out that the winner of the title "Miss Marin" will go on to participate in a "Miss California" beauty pageant in Los Angeles, which can lead to the "Miss Universe" and "Miss International Beauty" pageants. She stressed that the "Miss California" beauty pageant is not a talent contest, but that participants are judged on beauty of face and figure, personality, charm and poise only.

Entrants must be between 18 and 25, must have resided in California for at least six months, and must never have been married.

Redwood Dean, Husband To Study Education Abroad

Emma Wulzen, dean of girls at Redwood High School, will take a sabbatical leave and journey through Europe next year.

Mrs. Wulzen will be accompanied by her husband, Frank Wulzen, who is in the film business. The Wulzens plan to travel through Italy and Greece first, then visit France, Austria, Germany, England, and possibly the Scandinavian countries. They plan a four-month tour.

"The main purpose of our trip," Mrs. Wulzen said, "is to observe the schools and educational methods and standards of Europe and to promote student exchange programs."

They will go by ship and return by plane. In Europe, they will travel in an automobile which is to be purchased by their son, Alan, who is now working in Stuttgart, Germany. Alan will act as their guide.

While in Greece, the Wulzens plan to visit Robert Kuenhl, Redwood High School Latin teacher, who will be there for a year. They also will visit Robert Mautner, Redwood High School French teacher, who will be attending the Sorbonne University in Paris.

They also wish to visit two exchange students who have stayed in their home while at Redwood: Gernot Toutar, living near Vienna, Austria, and Matthias Schmidt, in Germany.

IN SCHOLARSHIP CONCERT—The husband-and-wife team of violinist Charles Meacham and pianist Robaline Meacham will open the scholarship benefit series of the Marin Branch California Music Teachers' Assn., Sunday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Violinist, Pianist Plan To Open Benefit Concerts

Violinist Charles Meacham and his wife, pianist Robaline Meacham, will open the fourth annual scholarship benefit concert series for the Marin Branch of the California Music Teachers Assn. Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The Meachams will play Mozart's Sonata No. 7, a sonata by Copland and sonata by Ravel, and Mrs. Meacham will perform a group of piano solos featuring compositions by Poulenc and Brahms.

Meacham is principal of the second violin section of the San Francisco Symphony, assistant conductor of the Marin Symphony, founder of the Marin Arts Quartet and is on the faculty of the College of Marin. He was concertmaster of the 1964 Bach Festival in Carmel.

A former president of the Marin Music Teachers' Assn., Mrs. Meacham is also a composer and organist.

Founded in honor of the late San Rafael music teacher Henrietta Trusty, the scholarships have assisted many young musicians including Kathleen Baird and Eden Vaning of San Rafael, Donald Munson of Fairfax, Mary Elliott of Corte Madera, Geoffrey Mayer of Sausalito and Jan McCready of Mill Valley.

On March 22 pianist Robert Lamb will play at Tamalpais High School in the second concert, and in April the third concert will be presented by soprano Valerie Meacham, the Meachams' daughter, who is a sophomore at Oberlin College.

Hub Council Waits Road Need Report

San Anselmo city councilmen may get a look tonight at a report on future road needs in the vicinity of the old Sunny Hills property.

The council meets at 8 p.m. at city hall.

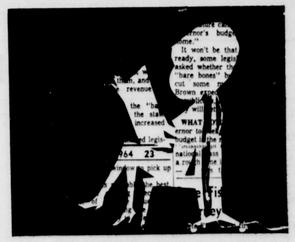

Councilmen decided two weeks ago that the report, being prepared by engineering consultants Wilsey, Ham and Blair for the developers of the property, might carry the key to a proposed rezoning on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Union Oil Co. wants three lots next to the Sunny Hills property changed from residential to commercial zoning. The council, however, withheld action until it could look further into the question of whether Sonoma Avenue eventually might be widened, or used as part of a long-sought link with San Rafael.

Also on the agenda tonight is an appeal by Allan Larkins Jr. of the city planning commission's Jan. 18 turn-down on his request to rezone 60 Magnolia Avenue for apartments. The commission held that this conflicted with the downtown master plan.

Bridge Course Set

A 10-week "advance beginner" bridge course, sponsored by the Marin Jewish Community Center, will be given on Mondays at 8 p.m. at the center in San Rafael starting March 1. Mrs. Lura Crossley will be the instructor.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Northern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of almost 5 to 1 MORE than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

KING OF THE MARDI GRAS

King Freret XII leads a gala 14-float parade through the streets of New Orleans last night in the first torchlit night parade of the 1965 Mardi Gras season. Freret's theme this year is "A World of Fun and Fancy." Ferdinanda Petrie, King Freret XII, sat on his golden throne and wished his merrymaking subjects fun and laughter for this carnival season. Paris Reaps Few Benefits From Alliance With China

By GEORGE W. HERALD
Worldwide Press Service

PARIS—One year has passed since President Charles de Gaulle recognized the Communist government of mainland China, and on the occasion of this anniversary both countries have tried to draw a balance sheet of the results.

Red China seems to feel quite satisfied with the results, whereas the general has yet to reap the political fruits of his venture.

"Our relations with France are on the whole good," declared a Red Chinese spokesman here in Paris. "Cooperation and exchanges between our countries are gradually increasing and there exist no major differences between the two capitals."

Chinese officials have expressed particular satisfaction with General de Gaulle's independent policy towards the United States and "his opposition to the nuclear monopoly of certain powers."

They have voiced their approval of French cooperation with such "non-aligned" countries as Algeria and Cambodia, which also receive aid from Peking. This indicates to the Chinese that aid from both countries "can very well function simultaneously and without conflict."

Peking has also welcomed France's support of its proposal for a new conference on Laos. It has applauded the withdrawal of French military bases from Africa, adding that the British and Americans should "take similar steps in Asia." And Peking seems pleased with de Gaulle's stand on Viet Nam, although it has said it would appreciate "more detailed suggestions and propositions" concerning this area.

In contrast, Paris officials are more guarded in their comments on the first year of French-Chinese relations. "We would like Peking to help us promote peace in the world, notably in Southeast Asia and Africa," said one. "It remains to be seen whether we can make progress in that direction in 1965."

De Gaulle's main purpose in recognizing Peking was to neutralize Viet Nam. But all he has accomplished so far is that France itself has been neutralized while the Chinese have helped foster new conflicts in Southeast Asia and infiltrated the African continent.

French critics of de Gaulle's policy see a paradox in the fact that only four years ago he was most outspoken in denouncing the perils of Red China's aggression. Today, not only the U.S. but several other countries are doing something to meet this danger.

Britain has sent reinforcements to Malaysia, threatened by Communist-armed Indonesia. Australia and New Zealand have also committed troops for Malaysia's defense. South Korea has sent technical personnel to aid beleaguered South Viet Nam. But France sits on the sidelines, bound by her self-made ties to Peking.

The French find some solace in the improvement of their trade with Red China. In the year since recognition, Red China has bought more material from France than in any previous period. Specifically, they have ordered several hundred Berliet trucks, Peugeot passenger cars, and Richard-Continental tractors. They also have purchased two cargo ships, oil drilling machinery, nickel, and more than 10,000 tons of laminated steel.

In the course of 1965, France is scheduled to receive Chinese trade missions in quest of chemical products and additional oil equipment. Another mission is expected to order the construction of one or more passenger steamers by the Chantiers de L'Atlantique. And negotiations on the sale of large quantities of French surplus wheat to Peking, which started last November, are expected to wind up this spring.

So far, French-Chinese trade has been more or less one-sided because the French have not yet lifted 1961 restrictions on the import of Chinese products. Peking is impatient that this be done quickly. It would like to buy more goods from France, rather than from Britain and the Netherlands, which actively oppose them in Southeast Asia. But Peking complains that French prices are not competitive in many cases; it seeks a full-fledged preferential trade pact with France.

The one domain in which both French and Chinese appear to be completely satisfied is the cultural field.

In 1964 France received 100 Chinese students and offered special facilities for their lodging and work. Twenty students went to Peking, and there was an important exchange of university professors. The famous French moviemaker Abel Gance and the pianist Samson Francois went to Peking on cultural trips, and the ensemble of the Peking Opera came to Paris for a number of performances. For the first time, Red China will take part in the Cannes Film Festival in May, 1965.

But French-Chinese relations will remain essentially negative for Paris so long as Peking pursues its political and military offensives in Asia and Africa.

Many influential Frenchmen are afraid that President de Gaulle unwittingly plays the role of a Kerensky in relation to the Chinese, especially in Africa. The French veteran statesman Andre Francois-Poncet, for example, warned in an editorial in Figaro on Feb. 1:

"The countries who make passes at us are not suddenly touched by grace. They merely implement artful calculations of crafty Chinese and Southeast Asian personages whose main objective is to dislocate the coalition of the West."

According to General de Gaulle's entourage, however, he still believes that he will soon be able to play the role of a mediator in the conflict between the West and Red China.

On that day, he trusts, the entire world will be grateful that he was the one white leader of stature with enough foresight to keep on good terms with Red China while everyone else — including the Russians — attempted to ostracize that huge nation.

De Gaulle has taken a gamble, but he remains confident that it will ultimately pay off as so many of his other gambles have.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Maturity Is Secret Of Happy Well-Adjusted Life For Man

VAN DELLEN

Maturity is the secret of a well-adjusted and happy life. It helps man to control his basic impulses and desires and to direct them into channels where they do the most good. The end result is a personality that helps us do the best we can with what we have.

In contrast, immaturity is the bugaboo of psychiatrists. It is responsible for many nervous ailments and behavior problems. The emotionally immature react in a way not in keeping with their age. As youngsters, they suck the thumb, soil the bed, and chew the nails long after they should know better. Many adults are in the same category; they never grow up, and as a result, remain juvenile. Ordinary obstacles are too big to overcome, and unless life is placid, annoying anxieties and neurotic tendencies develop.

MATURITY IS NOT necessarily the key to success. Many top-flight men and women have forced themselves ahead because they were driven by fear or frustration. They gain momentary satisfaction but never control their inclinations and wishes. They give too little and expect too much.

The mature person has the ability and willingness to act. He does not hem and haw or wait and see. After giving thought to the problem at hand, he either does or does not. He accepts responsibility, obligations, and the consequences of his decisions. These individuals can take criticism and do not blame others for poor decisions.

MATURE PERSONS know how to compromise with life. They are happy and work harmoniously with others because they are able to adjust to many situations. Immaturity and prejudice go hand in hand. It takes a well-rounded person to give and take or to accept controversial changes when the over-all advantages are obvious.

PLAYING IN THE SNOW

Grandma writes: Please warn careless mothers not to let their children play in the snow. These mothers are always buying cough medicines for their youngsters.

REPLY

Children should not be deprived of the fun of playing in the snow but they ought to be called in periodically for a change of clothing if their snowsuits and socks are wet.

PERIODIC DISTRESS

Mrs. B. writes: Every month, for the first two days of my period, I suffer terrible rectal pain. What could cause this condition.

REPLY

Endometriosis is capable of producing this symptom. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on endometriosis.

WINTER TEMPERATURE

H. W. S. writes: In order to maintain health, what should the average room temperature be in the wintertime?

REPLY

A temperature between 60 and 72 degrees F. is considered satisfactory, depending upon the moisture content of the room. A humidity of 30 to 50 per cent is ample.

RARE TUMOR

J. L. writes: What is Wilms' tumor?

REPLY

A rare tumor of the kidney, encountered only in children. If it is removed before the growth has a chance to spread, the outcome is good.

OBSTRUCTED TUBES

L. M. writes: Can blocked Fallopian tubes be opened so conception can occur?

REPLY

Yes, but the operation is not always successful.

Robbers In London Aiming For Diamonds

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE

LONDON (WPS)—Ever since the Great Train Robbery last year, which netted the thieves $7.5 million and set new records for British thievery, robbers have been aiming for the really big money.

Now it appears they've decided that diamonds are a thief's best friend, for the London diamond market is currently taking a beating.

You can walk down Hatton Garden, just off Holborn, and note nothing different from hundreds of other fairly mean streets in central Lonon. There are the same loiterers, the same drab buildings, the same grubby windows with a few names painted on them, and a few nondescript shops.

But in this particular street, millions of dollars worth of trade is done every year. For generations, the diamond men of Hatton Garden have carried their wares in small, chamois, leather pouches in their waistcoat pockets. The one big building, De Beers' headquarters, handles nearly $300 million worth of diamonds a year — most of the production of the world.

It is this street of quiet wealth that the new breed of Britain's criminals has turned its attention to. Within one week they have gotten away with hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of gems, and no-one knows where they will strike next.

One diamond merchant, called to the door of his shop, found himself facing a gun and was relieved of $50,000 if not more.

Another merchant, driving home, was stopped by a trick and robbed of diamonds worth nearly $750,000.

A third merchant, getting out of a taxicab, was slugged with a bottle and when he regained consciousness, he found he had been robbed of $90,000 worth of gems.

One Mayfair jeweler was robbed three times within two months.

At this rate the diamond men of Hatton Garden will soon be carrying their wares in armored cars instead of their vest pockets. This will demand a tremendous change in their traditional trading methods, however.

For the smaller dealers, diamond trading depends on the difference in prices which this or that individual will pay. And there is a big trade in little diamonds of up to half a carat — and it takes only a small piece of tissue paper to hold a tidy sum of money in this form.

The diamond trade is intensely complicated, covering the diamond from its African birthplace in some hole in the ground to a finished piece of jewelry or machine tool.

The gem as it appears in a necklace may have been increased in value half a dozen times during the selling process through this man and that. So the dealers in this trade are vulnerable through a whole series of stages.

The amazing thing is the seeming casualness with which they have hitherto operated. Ordinary registered Air Mail carries diamond stones all over the world to the big centers for cutting and polishing. And when they are returned, enormously increased in value, it is again by Air Mail.

Yet losses have been very light, perhaps because the valuable packages are to some extent camouflaged by the bulk of the rest of the mail.

But on ground travel, the insurance companies have increased their rates — always a tip — and there is talk of heavier increases.

Small wonder that so many diamond merchants are taking a course called, "What to do when attacked."

Abraham Lincoln observed his 56th and final birthday on Feb. 12, 1865.

MGM Studios announced yesterday that Miss Bancroft would replace Miss Neal in the John Ford - directed picture starting tomorrow

The experience of pearl fishermen show that misshapen molluscs or those infested with parasites, are most likely to yield pears.

EXCHANGE FAMILY—Grete Wiig shows a Norwegian troll carving to "sister" Lynne Eddy and "American parents" Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Eddy of Ross. Grete is returning an Experiment in International Living visit by Lynne to her home in Norway. And Lynne's younger sister, Barbara, is in Norway with Grete's sister, Kine.

Grete Wiig Visits Eddy Family, Barbara Eddy Visits The Wiigs

By PETER GOLDSTEIN

Television cameras aren't there, but a visitor in the home of the Henry D. Eddy family at 37 Lagunitas Road, Ross, probably will have the feeling he's caught in the middle of a filming for a new television series.

In Ross, the camera would focus on Grete Wiig, 19, elder daughter of the Arnold Wiig family of Halden, Norway, a city of 20,000 on the southern coast.

Grete is visiting Lynne, 20, elder daughter of the Eddy family.

Then the scene would shift to Halden, Norway. There Barbara, 18, younger daughter of the Eddy family, is visiting Kine, 16, younger daughter of the Wiig family.

The visits-across-the-sea scenario began when Lynne went to Norway as an Experiment in International Living exchange student and stayed with the Wiig family. From there on, it's been carried out by the two families as a family-to-family swap.

Mrs. Eddy, who would be the narrator for the television series, is a strong proponent of student exchange programs, both as a parent and as vice president of the student exchange committee at Redwood High School, where Lynne was graduated in 1962 and Barbara in 1964.

Mrs. Eddy is also chairman of the International Fair, an all-student exchange program at Redwood which will be held in the school's gymnasium on March 20 from noon to 9 p.m., as well as a library assistant at College of Marin.

"Despite the language barrier," Mrs. Eddy relates, "Lynne was impressed by the marvelous relationship that developed almost as soon as she unpacked her suitcase in the Wiig home.

"Norwegians learn the English language at the age of 10 and with Grete's help as interpreter, Lynne adjusted to her new environment in no time at all."

Grete, who attends College of Marin, is studying to be a clinical psychologist.

Barbara, the Eddys' youngest daughter, attends the equivalent of an American junior college in Halden. "Her main interest is art and she's drawing political cartoons," Mrs. Eddy said, "but she's also writing for the newspaper."

Now Mrs. Eddy looks forward to the day when Barbara returns from her trip and to when the youngest daughter of the Wiig family, Kine, has her turn to visit in the exchange.

But she also confesses that she looks forward, most of all, to the day when she and her husband can make their own trip to Halden and visit in the Wiig home.

TV REVIEW

Cinderella Hummable But Flat

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — CBS-TV last night presented a musical special for children, "Cinderella," about the young lady who was misunderstood by her family but squared matters through her local social worker, a fairy godmother.

The plot, of course, is concerned with virtue, which makes it something of a television first this season.

I categorize the 90-minute color program as a children's special because, although it is a new production of the 1957 Rodgers and Hammerstein video musical fairy tale, the apparent tongue-in-cheek approach of the first show has been replaced by a straight treatment. I use the word "apparent" in regard to the 1957 tongue-in-cheek handling because I must rely on the word of others. In 1957 I didn't even own a television set.

I'm sorry I missed the original "Cinderella," which, by the way, starred Julie Andrews. I don't mean to be a grouch—I'm sure many youngsters enjoyed last night's version — but I nearly fell asleep during it, repeatedly. If you are going to tell adults a many-times-told story again, you had better have something special going for you, and I'm afraid last night's version, despite the occasionally hummable tunes, was rather flat.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mexico's noted ballet folklorico is scheduled to appear on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" Saturday. "Li'l Abner" is NBC-TV's Saturday night movie March 13 . . . Pat O'Brien guests on CBS-TV's "Slattery's People" March 12, portraying an aging politician who fights his party's attempt to dump him for a younger man.
